

By Leonard Randolph

SCHOOL directors tackled Monroe County Commissioners on a familiar question yesterday — and got a familiar answer.

Two Monroe County School Board delegates asked Commissioners to put themselves on record in favor of setting assessments at one-third of market value when the county's assessment revision program is finished.

Commissioners agreed conditionally to pass a resolution to that effect — but they said they first want to consult with township supervisors and enlist their cooperation in support of the ratio.

Commissioner Willard Quick told school delegates Harry Drennan and Clyde Dietrick:

"I'm willing to commit myself to 33 and one-third percent — subject to change — but I'm not going to commit myself for the next 10 years."

Commissioners have maintained that it is unfair to demand that a ratio be established before the county actually knows what its market value on property will be.

Assurance

School directors, on the other hand, have been seeking some assurance from the county that the assessed value ratio will be one-third of the market value established by the equalization program. School boards need the assurance, according to Drennan and Dietrick, so that bonding houses will be willing to accept bond issues on the basis of projected assessments within districts which now need to embark on building programs.

Drennan told Commissioners yesterday: "The bonding houses say that we can't have building programs unless the assessed value will be 33 and one-third. We need you gentlemen to go on record setting the value at one-third."

At the beginning of his conference with Commission members, Drennan handed a sheaf of papers to chairman John Lesone. "Well, John, 17 out of the 18 districts in the county have complied with the request," he said.

Commissioners two months ago agreed to support efforts of local districts to raise their own assessments to about one-third of estimated market value on an interim basis to help get building programs started.

At that time they asked that school districts provide them with letters pledging that they (the school districts) would adjust their millage rates downward when and if assessments were raised to one-third.

The only district which did not comply with the request was Tobyhanna Township, Drennan said.

The school board delegate said he wanted commissioners to agree that "when assessments are equalized (sic) it's going to be one-third."

Quick replied: "Didn't we say once before that we would try to support 33 and one-third percent?" Drennan said: "Yes, but there is a motion on the books?"

Chief clerk H. Ray Saunders said there was no motion on the minutes because no official action had been taken. Drennan said he felt "there ought to be."

At this point county solicitor L. A. Acherman said: "Now this may develop into a curious situation, Harry, because if the commissioners go on record to set the assessed value at one-third you may very well be coming back to us, hat in hand, asking for a higher ratio after the program is finished."

Drennan said: "Well, can't you say it will be 'no less' than one-third?" Acherman then replied: "But why do you want the commissioners to set a percentage when they don't even know what the market value is going to be?"

Statement

Acherman then went on to say: "I think I speak for all the members of the commission when I say that we sympathize with school board members and feel sorry for them, because your problems have been heaped upon you by the State legislature and they're not doing their share. Now with the passage of Senate Bill 35 they're telling you that you have to do all these things they demand that you do, but you can't raise any more money to do it."

This was a reference to S-35, a bill which prevents local taxing bodies from raising more than a specified increase in tax revenue in the year following inception of the county assessment program. (The Associated Press said yesterday that S-35 is now awaiting concurrence by the Senate in House-passed amendments.)

Minority commissioner W. Adolph Rake told the delegates: "But it's entirely possible that when the equalization program goes into effect you won't need a one-third ratio." Drennan said that might develop but that the districts need support of one-third ratio now.

Drennan then said that Commissioners could "make the change county-wide and tell all assessors to make the change — you have charge of them." Lesone said: "We don't have charge of them."

Drive To Cut Ike's Budget Gains Momentum

Administration Pushes Fresh Resistance

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — A bipartisan drive to cut President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget gathered momentum in Congress today despite fresh administration resistance.

The Senate's Republican and Democratic leaders flatly denied any administration hopes that Congress members may have returned from their Easter vacation with cooling ardor for economy.

Sens. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic chief, expressed the identical views in separate informal news conferences that their colleagues determined that never to reduce spending.

Johnson said that in his 20 years in House and Senate service he had "never seen such strong demands" for economy in government.

Brief Trips

Knowland, who made brief trips to California and Florida during the vacation period, said he found "no diminution in interest in economy in the country."

Some of Eisenhower's advisers were reported as believing the pressure among the lawmakers for budget cuts might have been lessened by talking with voters at home who want expanded health, social security, housing and natural resource development aid.

Eisenhower's plea yesterday for dollars cut by the House from State Department funds got a cool reception from the two party leaders.

Johnson outlined a schedule of Senate work on money bills during May. He said the foreign aid appropriation will be delayed until later.

Knowland, who has predicted a billion dollar cut in Eisenhower's $4,400,000,000 foreign assistance program, said it was his understanding this program will be outlined in detail to leaders of both parties at a May 8 White House conference.

U. S. Offers Assistance To Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan, April 29 (AP) — The United States today offered 10 million dollars in economic aid to King Hussein's new anti-Communist government.

Jordan indicated immediate acceptance. Talks began at once on ways to put the money to quick use in this troubled, poverty-stricken Middle East kingdom.

(The Soviet Union called the United States the "main culprit" in the Jordanian crisis. A Foreign Office statement broadcast by Moscow Radio said the situation is dangerous and "could lead to grave consequences.")

(The Jordan radio heard in Cairo said Hussein and King Saud had agreed in their surprise talks in Saudi Arabia Sunday that the Jordan crisis was an internal affair.)

The new Jordan aid offer was announced by the U. S. Embassy soon after Jordan's Foreign Ministry emphasized it wants nothing to do with the Eisenhower Middle East Doctrine—possibly for internal political reasons.

The aid is proffered outside the framework of the doctrine which provides military as well as economic support to any Middle East nation requesting help to resist Communist aggression.

The U. S. Embassy announcement said the offer was made in recognition of "the brave steps taken by His Majesty King Hussein and the government and people of Jordan to maintain the integrity and independence of their nation."

The statement added that the U. S. government "is prepared promptly to provide His Majesty's government with 10 million dollars in economic aid funds to assist in economic development and the maintenance of political stability."

Drennan then said that Commissioners could "make the change county-wide and tell all assessors to make the change — you have charge of them." Lesone said: "We don't have charge of them."

Hospital To Build Four New Rooms

BOARD members at General Hospital last night voted to use part of a grant given to it by the Ford Foundation for these purposes:

- 1—Reconstruction of the West Solarium into four new semi-private rooms.
- 2—Purchase (at an estimated $5,000) of an electro-encephalograph machine.

Board chairman Frank S. LaBar said that "the purchase of the EEG machine is a decisive step forward for the hospital. It will allow us to make accurate diagnosis of brain injury in the treatment of auto accident victims."

The machine will also be used in treatment of mentally-disturbed or emotionally-unbalanced patients and in the analysis of certain patients who are being treated by the hospital's part-time psychiatric care service.

LaBar noted that the hospital is "also fortunate in that we have a trained technician on hand who is skilled in the use of the electro-encephalograph." The technician is Mrs. Shirley Ainspach who has been with the hospital for the past five months. EEG graphs will be used for psychiatric interpretation by Dr. Robert Dillon, the consulting psychiatrist at the hospital, LaBar said.

In voting to do away with the West Solarium and turn the space into rooms the board chairman noted that the solarium has, in the past, proved too cold during Winter months as it is now constructed for use in housing patients.

Plans for the reconstruction have been drawn and approved and work should start on the new rooms "sometime within the next couple of weeks," LaBar said. Money received by the hospital from Ford Foundation has been primarily earmarked for building expansion.

Meany Reveals Suspension Of Beck Remains Official

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — George Meany, AFL-CIO president, today told Dave Beck, beleaguered Teamsters Union president, that his suspension as an AFL-CIO officer stands despite Beck's claim that his ouster was an illegal "nullity."

Beck immediately went into a huddle with his lawyers and fellow Teamsters Union chiefs to decide their next moves in defending Beck and the union itself from AFL-CIO charges stemming from Senate Rackets Committee hearings.

It appeared that a showdown might be in the making on Beck's status as Teamsters boss. The union's most pressing immediate problem was whether to make an appearance on May 6 before the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee on charges the union was substantially dominated by corrupt influences.

Special Meeting

A group of five Teamsters vice presidents, meeting with Beck, announced they had recommended he call a special meeting of the union's executive board "within a week or 10 days."

It was indicated this meeting may be held before next Monday's Ethical Practices Committee session on charges against the union to decide (1) whether to send representatives to the Monday meeting, and (2) the union's next move with respect to the charges against Beck.

Beck, declining to see reporters, sent "no comment" replies to several questions relayed through aides. One was whether he knew anything of the whereabouts of a union auditor, Beck's son, and two of Beck's wife's relatives. Senate investigators claim these persons, wanted for questioning, have "disappeared."

McCarthy In Serious Condition

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was reported tonight to be slightly improved but still in serious condition at Bethesda Naval Hospital.

The illness of McCarthy, who has been in an oxygen tent since he was admitted to the hospital at 5 p. m. Sunday, was diagnosed as acute hepatitis, or inflammation of the liver.

The 59-year-old former British prime minister underwent surgery April 13 for an obstruction that had caused recurrent attacks of fever while he was vacationing in New Zealand.

Ike Calls Conference

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 29 (AP) — President Eisenhower today called Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to a May 9 conference in Washington on the administration's $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program.

Court Rules Out Girard Segregation

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled out racial segregation in Philadelphia's years has admitted only "poor white male orphans" as specified in the will of its founder.

In a unanimous, unsigned decision, the court held that the board of directors of City Trust of Philadelphia, which administers the school, is an agency of the State of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, even though the board was acting as a trustee, the court said its refusal to admit two boys to the school "because they were Negroes was discrimination by the state." "Such discrimination is forbidden by the 14th Amendment," it added.

The court cited its 1954 decision holding racial segregation in public schools to be unconstitutional.

French-born Stephen Girard, who amassed a vast fortune as a miner, merchant and banker, left most of his estate to Philadelphia for various municipal purposes. When he died in 1831 at the age of 80.

A major bequest was two million dollars to establish Girard College. The will named the City of Philadelphia as trustee to set up and operate a school for "poor white male orphans."

The college opened in 1848 and until 1869 was under the direct charge of the City Council and its various committees. Because of dissatisfaction with the manner in which it was managed, the State Legislature in 1869 transferred direction of the school to the board of directors of City Trust, which includes city officials.

House Passes Bill

HARRISBURG, April 29 (AP) — The House today passed 120-61 a bill that would create a new license for station wagons to cost $12. The measure goes to the Senate.

Belle Baker Dies

HOLLYWOOD, April 29 (AP) — Belle Baker, a leading singer of the vaudeville era, died last night in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after suffering a heart attack at her home here Friday.

Paul Discusses Merger Move In Harrisburg

RALPH PAUL, co-chairman of the Central Labor Union committee which is sounding out public opinion of consolidation of the Boroughs of East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg, reported yesterday on his recent conference with state officials.

He went to Harrisburg to seek advice on two questions that have arisen since the merger proposal was broached. One deals with the school systems and the other with the municipal government.

Paul said he talked with officials of the Department of Public Instruction relative to the two different types of school systems in effect here and whether they would be merged automatically if the boroughs consolidated. Stroudsburg schools are part of a union district, while those in East Stroudsburg belong to an area jointure.

First Time

The local union leader said this was the first time such a situation had been faced in this state, so it would be necessary to obtain a ruling from the State Justice Department.

The solicitors of both school districts, could get this by writing to the Public Instruction Department, which would refer the matter to the attorney general for a ruling.

Paul's other inquiries were put to the Department of Internal Affairs. He explained that Stroudsburg has a borough manager system of government, which differs from the type of municipal government in effect in East Stroudsburg. How this would be resolved under merger of the boroughs was not definitely understood, although it is presumed it could be handled amicably by the borough officials when the time came for actual consolidation.

State officials said they would compile a list of boroughs which have completed mergers and make it available to the union, which could then contact the boroughs to determine how they solved the problems of municipal government.

Rains Continue To Fall In Texas

By The Associated Press

THE rains that transformed Texas as from a drought disaster area to a flood-plagued area in 11 days splashed down without letup Monday. The Weather Bureau said no end is in sight before Saturday.

The area's worst flood bore down on cities along the Upper Sabine River. Flood warnings were sent to communities from the river's headwaters deep in northeast Texas and along the Louisiana-Texas border to the Gulf of Mexico.

Meeting a request by Texas Gov. Price Daniel, President Eisenhower declared flooded districts of Texas to be "major disaster areas," thus qualifying for federal disaster relief funds.

Low Pressure

A low pressure weather system stalled over the Southwest was blamed for the marathon assault by rains, tornadoes and thunderstorms.

The Southwest's rain area extended northward to Kansas and western Missouri. Showers and thunderstorms sprinkled much of New Mexico. Another area of thunderstorms developed from Tennessee into southern Virginia. Rain pelted the Southeast Coast, and showers were scattered over Florida.

Except for a few showers in northern New England, fair weather dominated the northern half of the nation.

Government Supposedly Knew Move

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — A Texarkana, Tex., manufacturer testified today he paid a Teamster Union official, with government knowledge and Navy funds, to let his trucks enter a federal depot.

Then Earl P. Bettendorf, the manufacturer, followed up by saying it was extortion and "I didn't consider it a bribe."

Bettendorf who has plants at Ashdown, Ark., and Sandston, Va., told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee the Navy gave him $18,591.30 "so the union could be paid off."

Totals

Bettendorf said his total payments were around $1,000. He did not testify as to what happened to the other $14,000.

The witness, appearing at his own request in order to correct what he said were injustices done him by previous testimony before the committee, said the payoffs were made to Joseph McHugh, a business agent of a Teamsters local at Scranton, Pa., in order to insure delivery of his merchandise to the U. S. Army Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna, Pa.

"I was paying him a bribe," he said at one point. "I paid it with the complete knowledge of the U. S. government."

But a moment later he was saying he didn't consider it a bribe. Not so with Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.), who said it was a bribe, "there is no other word for it," and "I am against the law."

"I was paying him with government money," Bettendorf declared.

He repeated over and over that the government knew what was going on and said that he cooperated with the FBI on the case for two years.

Bettendorf employs about 125 people in the manufacture of industrial pallets. These are small platforms for loading purposes which can be picked up by lift forks and moved about with their loads.

Background

The background of his appearance before the Senate committee goes back to a hearing on April 16, when Paul Bradshaw, a steward for the Scranton Teamsters local, testified that Bettendorf had telephoned him and offered him $200 a week to let the trucks with nonunion drivers through the gates, past Teamsters Union inspectors.

Bradshaw said he turned Bettendorf down, but referred him to McHugh. He said McHugh issued orders the next day that "we can't touch this outfit no more" because Bettendorf "has a big drag down in Washington."

"Every statement that Mr. Bradshaw made there is untrue," Bettendorf declared.

Soviet Union Hurls Charge

MOSCOW, April 29 (AP) — The Soviet Union charged tonight that the United States increased the danger of war in the Middle East by sending the powerful 6th Fleet to the eastern Mediterranean.

A Foreign Ministry statement pictured the United States as leading a sinister Western plot to deprive the Arab countries of their freedom, and cast the Soviet Union itself in the role of the Arabs' friend.

Broadcast

The statement was broadcast by Moscow radio and heard in London. Summaries of the declaration were broadcast twice in the early Moscow Arabic program with an announcement that the full text would be repeated in Arabic tomorrow.

Assessed as a whole, the statement was relatively mild by Soviet standards.

Military Displays To Mark Tobyhanna Days

A WIDE variety of military equipment will be on public display in the Stroudsburgs during the third annual Tobyhanna Days observance May 9, 10 and 11, it was disclosed yesterday.

The exhibits are being brought here through the efforts of Signal Corps officers at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot, who are cooperating with local sources in staging the event.

The displays will include two 50-ton, M-47 tanks, modern ordnance weapons from the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Letterkenny Ordnance Depot and the Army Chemical Corps, the latest in Signal Corps communications and electronic equipment and other equipment.

There will be a closed circuit television circuit where people can see themselves on TV. Jet aircraft will participate in a series of maneuvers over the Stroudsburgs on Saturday, May 11, according to preliminary plans announced by the depot.

Some of the displays will be placed in storerooms where the public can view it at their leisure. The former Montgomery Ward Building on Main St. will be used in Stroudsburg, and the storeroom adjacent to Cleveland's plumbing shop on Crystal St. has been made available in East Stroudsburg.

Exhibits too large for display indoors will be placed on trucks parked along the streets.

Depot authorities said yesterday the displays which will be shown this year are "bigger and better" than those exhibited in 1955 and 1956. All displays will be manned by military personnel.

Ribbon-cutting exercises are planned in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg on the morning of May 9. Taking part will be Col. Bob Glover, deputy commander, who will head a delegation from the Tobyhanna Depot, and Burgess Hal H. Harris and Jesse R. S. Flory.

Viewing the Screens

TONIGHT at 7:30 will mark the beginning of a new series of adventure films on ch. 11. "Big Game Hunt" is the filmed jungle adventures of the late Martin and Osa Johnson, famed explorers, who dared to penetrate the wilds of Africa and Borneo with camera and gun. Jack Barry's "Tie Tac Dough" quiz will be switched to evenings in the fall. It is possible that Jackie Gleason's replacement for the summer will be kinescopes of his past shows.

West Point is being pushed out of the 8 p.m. Friday spot on CBS. Zane Grey Theater will move up from 8:30 to 8, and, in turn, will be replaced by December Bride, moving up from the Monday night spot.

Sir Laurence Olivier's mighty screen version of "Hamlet" heads the parade of outstanding films on ABC's "Afternoon Film Festival" during the week of May 6, with Part I being presented Monday and Part II Tuesday. Sal Mineo will have a singing-acting role as the star of "Drummer Man" tomorrow night at 9 on ch. 3 and 4, when he plays an ambitious young musician who demands the big time or nothing.

This morning, at 10 on "Home," Arlene Francis will visit with Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., and Mrs. Brownell, when Mr. Brownell will describe the functions of his office and his wife will chat about life in Washington. James Mason, his wife, Pamela, and their two children comprise the entire cast of "Marooned," a drama of a crisis in the life of a family on "Panic" tonight at 8:30 on ch. 3 and 4.

At 8 p.m. on ch. 3 and 4 Helen Hayes and her son, James MacArthur, Sam Levenson and his niece and Don Ameche and a partner still to be picked will dance for charity on "The Arthur Murray Party." Mary Healy will again sit in for Polly Bergen on the "To Tell The Truth" panel at 9 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10, while Polly is in Hollywood getting ready for "The Helen Morgan Story" to be telecast May 16.

"Circle Theatre at 9:30 p.m. on ch. 3 and 4 will dramatize a six-hour session in a New York night court. The presence of the same boy among the crowd of onlookers at several devastating fires tips off a Chicago Fire Department arson investigator to the existence of a destructive racket in "Chicago 3-1-2," starring Frank Lovejoy, at 9:30 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7. ## Future Teachers To Attend Conference At East Stroudsburg State Teachers College

HIGH SCHOOL and college students planning to become teachers will take temporary leave of classrooms and laboratories to hear the business, industry, and Armed Forces brass confirm their choice of professions Friday and Saturday at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, during the Annual Pennsylvania Future Teachers of America Convention. This annual meeting is one of the highlights of the Pennsylvania State Education Association's program for the Selective Recruitment of teacher education candidates.

Earl Bunting, past president, National Association of Manufacturers, and Col. Mary Louise Milligan, Director, U. S. Women's Army Corps and a former Allegheny County teacher and principal, are featured speakers. They will share the program with Charles H. Boehm, superintendent, Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction; LeRoy J. Koehler, president, and Dean Francis B. McGarry of the host college; and Kermit M. Stover, Harrisburg president of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn.

Don McGarvey, Pennsylvania State University education professor, will keynote the conference, and Sam Jacobs, Greensburg; Mrs. Miltona Klinetob, Plymouth; Harold Koch, Hazleton; and other PSEA committee chairmen and members will add greetings and participate in the two-day sessions.

The usual business mixed with pleasure and workshops, where delegates too may talk for the record, fill the packed agenda. A record delegate and sponsor turnout of 600 is expected.

Walter A. Bjorn, FTA State President, and Jack Saunders, FTA President of the host College Chapter, will represent East Stroudsburg in presiding over the business and banquet meetings, and State Committee member, William Pohutsky, Bloomsburg STC, will preside at the final Saturday luncheon.

Dancing to Mark Hilburn's Orchestra will be the Convention's social climax Friday night.

Feud Develops At Meeting Of Monroe County Commissioners

Photostating Machine Causes Disagreement

By Leonard Randolph
A SIMMERING feud between Floyd Butz, register and recorder and County Commissioners boiled over again yesterday.

The disagreement stems from the purchase and use of a photostating machine by Butz for his office.

All three commissioners—John Lesoine, chairman and Willard S. Quick, both Democrats (as is Butz) and W. Adolph Rake, the minority Republican member—took part in the discussion.

Summarizing the board's discussion, solicitor L. A. Achtermann said that commission members agree that:

1—Butz purchased the machine without the knowledge of either present commissioners or their predecessors in the office (Rake, Amzi Altomose (GOP) and Granville Shiffer).

2—It was installed and put into use without the knowledge of either board.

3—The machine has been used for photographic reproductions (photostats) of papers which do not fall under requirements of Butz's office, and that he has been paid for such services.

Yesterday's discussion was an outgrowth of presentation of bills to commissioners from Haloid Inc., Philadelphia. The company manufactures the machine used by Butz's office. The bills presented were for more than $400 worth of photographic paper and supplies used in the machine.

The company is now threatening to sue the county, according to Lesoine, unless the bills are paid. Commissioners studied the bills, complete with requisitions attached to a portion of them, and voted to pay $108.51 worth of them. This was the total billing in which requisitions were shown, they said.

Continuing the discussion of the machine itself, Lesoine said that "commissioners do not quarrel with the purchase of the machine—even though Butz exceeded his powers in buying it and installing it without the knowledge of either old or new commissioners."

In an official resolution passed several months ago, Lesoine said, commissioners voted to buy the machine outright and install it as county property for Butz's use in his office.

The resolution would permit Butz to use the machine for photographing "official records only," Lesoine said, and provides further "that the cost of operating the machine should be deducted from the revenue it brings in before the county and Butz divide proceeds from it on a 50-50 basis."

Under terms of the resolution the county specified, also, that "all transactions involving operation of the machine be billed and itemized on a separate pad consecutively so that they can be audited," the chairman said.

Statement

Instead of this agreement, however, Lesoine said, "Butz wants to take his 50 percent of the income out of the gross profits and make the county foot the bill for all of the cost of supplies."

Operating the machine under those circumstances would mean "a loss for the county of Monroe," Lesoine said, since it would be bearing all the expense of supplies and Butz would not be accepting responsibility for any of these costs.

The register and recorder's office—like other offices in county government which involve transfers, sale of licenses etc.—offers the holder of the office a commission basis on which he works.

At one point in the discussion, Quick asked Achtermann "Do we have any control over that machine?" Achtermann said that the county could not control the machine, as such, but that "you (as commissioners) have a definite right to insist that he (Butz) limit his office work to papers required for processing as part of his job."

Achtermann said that Butz's duties include processing copies of certified papers needed by attorneys but that other non-certified papers had been processed using the machine.

Don't Send Your Coats To Be Cleaned—Six May Frosts Predicted By Local Weatherman

YOU'D BETTER enjoy these fine days while they last, because Spring still has a few chilly tricks up her sleeve. Such was the word handed down by Vernon Heller, of Stroudsburg, caretaker of a mid-borough parking lot, who has made a study of weather conditions here for a number of years. According to Heller's calculations, there will be frosts on May 3, 4, 9, 14, 25 and 26—and the latter one, he predicts, is likely to be the most severe of all. Heller's system is simple. He said all that is necessary is a writing pad and a pencil to jot down the weather as it occurs in February. He notes the days on which fog is visible in February and calculates there will be frosts on the corresponding days in May. This year, he said, there was fog on Feb. 3, 4, 9, 14 and 25 and a heavy fog on Feb. 26. This led him to forecast frost on these dates in May. Has his system been tested before? Yes, Heller explained, and his day-by-day observations during the previous four Februaries have proved virtually fool-proof, he said.

Funeral Services To Be Held For Newfoundland Man Today

SOUTH STERLING—Funeral services will be held today for Patrick Peifer, 58, of Newfoundland. Peifer died Sunday in a Honesdale rest home, of injuries he sustained in a "hit and run" incident on Route 90 near Newfoundland last October 12. He had been hospitalized since that night.

Four Girls Seek Title Of Miss Milkmaid

FOUR GIRLS will compete today in Allentown in the "Miss Milkmaid" contest for the Lehigh-Northampton-Monroe Milk Marketing area.

Janice LaBar, of Bangor RD 1, runner-up a year ago, is one of the contestants. Others are Louise Lieberman, Pen Argyl RD; Janice Haas, Breinigsville, and Deborah Hance, Pleasant Valley.

The winner will be eligible to compete in the state contest May 16-17 at Bedford Springs.

Each of the girls is the daughter of a dairy farmer producing milk in the marketing area. The contestants will be judged on beauty, poise, speech, personality and their background knowledge of the milk industry.

Merle C. Ostrom

Ostrom Bows From Board At Hospital

GENERAL HOSPITAL of Monroe County's board of directors last night accepted "with deep regret" the resignation of Merle C. Ostrom as a member.

Ostrom was formerly general manager and assistant to the publisher of The Daily Record. He retired early this year after more than 50 years in the newspaper business.

He had served on the hospital board the past decade. Board members praised him for his "many contributions to the welfare of the community and for his conscientious efforts to bring about a better General Hospital equipped with modern facilities to meet the needs of all the people in the county."

Mr. and Mrs. Ostrom are now in Stroudsburg. They will leave for Florida in about three weeks. They intend to make their home there.

Acceptance of the resignation was announced by board chairman Frank S. LaBar.

Stroud Union PTA Honors Thomas Knepp

STROUD UNION High School Parent-Teachers Assn. last night paid tribute to one of its teachers for his role in bringing about the polio inoculations of Monroe County school children.

He was Thomas Knepp, science department head at the high school. Knepp conducted a survey of students which showed that only a small percentage of them had received more than one of the shots in the Salk vaccine series.

His survey was taken up before a meeting of the Monroe County Medical Society. Society members voted to give the shots free to all school children.

Successful Campaign

The program was carried out successfully under direction of a Medical Society committee.

Last night the PTA honored Knepp with a citation and a "life membership" in the organization. Entertainment on the program was provided by a "mental health problem play" titled "And You Never Know." It featured Susan Mitchell, Neil White and Carol Cruse in its cast and was directed by Alfred W. Munson. A discussion of mental health was led by Eloise Bryan, union school district psychologist.

New officers named by the PTA were these: Jack LeBar, Delaware Water Gap, president; Mrs. Richard Hellman, Clearview, vice president; Mrs. Russell Pritchard, Clearview, secretary; Raymond Serfass, high school faculty, treasurer. Robert Haigh, retiring president, thanked members for their cooperation during his two years in office.

Mrs. O'Keefe Succumbs

MRS. MARY Elizabeth O'Keefe, 89, of 404 East Bryant St., Stroudsburg, passed away at 5 p.m. yesterday. She was the widow of Daniel H. O'Keefe.

Mrs. O'Keefe was born in Nicholson, Pa., the daughter of the late John and Mary Hartley Stephens Shafer.

She has lived in Stroudsburg for the past eight years and was a member of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg, and the church's Altar and Rosary Society.

She is survived by nieces and nephews. Funeral arrangements will be announced by William H. Clark, Funeral Director.

House Should Pass Meeting, Record Bills

The "open meeting" and "open record" bills which passed the State Senate are having a rougher time in the House.

Latest word is that the open meeting measure may be reported to the House floor today. But the open record bill remains buried in the Municipal Corporations Committee.

Chairman Stanley L. Blair (R-Erie) said the committee was in favor of the proposal which would require a stronger open meeting law than the one we now have, but that it was "too loosely drawn" and would be tightened "without losing its original purpose."

But Rep. James Bowman (R-Dauphin) said the penal provisions are "unrealistic" and the legislation "unintelligible." He added that he "doubts if the bill could be adequately amended to overcome its objections."

Meanwhile, Rep. Harry Price (R-Mifflin) feels the open record bill is objectionable because "it goes too far."

By way of explanation, the first bill provides that meetings of all branches or agencies of government must be open to the public. It passed the Senate 50-0.

This Type Of Propaganda Should Be Encouraged

Since this is the time when Congress seems strongly bent on finding cheaper ways to spread abroad the virtues of America, the lawmakers might attend to an event that occurred recently in Warsaw. Fundamentally, it wasn't anything too astonishing. It happened on the concert stage. Famed violinist Yehudi Menuhin for the first time in his career regaled a Polish audience with his fine playing.

Long a legend to Polish music lovers, he captured their hearts at the outset by making room for standees on the orchestra platform behind him. Then he launched into a program that made absolutely no concession at all to their presumed musical interest — romantic Russian music.

George Sokolsky Says...

Rising Costs Hit Hardest At Pensioners, White Collar Workers, Those With Savings

The government in Washington has announced that for the seventh month in succession prices have risen.

In an older day, it would have been called "The High Cost of Living," all spelled in capital letters.

Those labor unions which enjoy escalator clauses will be able automatically to obtain wage increases for their members. The White Collar classes, policemen, firemen, teachers, etc., actually suffer a reduction in income. Widows living on annuities, beneficiaries of life insurance policies and such will receive less purchasing power than the dollars that were paid in possession.

The same is true of those with money in savings accounts. The only currency that is worth more is that which is won in a poker game or in some other manner and upon which no taxes are paid.

This is one phase of the present rise in prices which actually means the seventh successive decrease in the value of our money in a short period.

There is another arithmetic calculation that can be made that does not involve any complicated effort and that is that "if the income tax rate remains constant, and at the same time the dollar continues to be devalued, the result will be a continuing increase in the taxes although the rate will appear to remain the same." I select the statement of this formula from a letter of a lawyer, Ray A. McFadyen of Columbus, Ohio.

Like other fundamental but unpleasant formulations of the truth, McFadyen proves this point to the hilt. It is as simple as Gresham's Law that bad money drives out good money which is very discouraging because bad money so often comes in greater quantities and provides a sense of having plenty. In all the early stages of inflation, this sense of well-being is potent. In later stages, the sense of well-being disappears and is followed by the anguish of selling family jewels and heirlooms.

So far as each individual head of a household is concerned, the really pressing problem is prices and taxes and while some elements are able to solve their personal problem by increased wages or by subsidies, the result in one case is renewed increases in prices and in the other, renewed increases in government expenditures. The net result is that we move toward a further devaluation of the dollar.

The greatest burden of this course falls upon those citizens who cannot obtain automatic increases, and those who try to maintain what in Europe is called status. In a word, the economic middle class suffers most.

In some industries such persons protect themselves by stock options and all sorts of non-taxable devices, but such persons as university professors upon whom so much of the future of this country depends, have no means of protecting themselves and are bound to find that their standard of life constantly must be reduced by the squeeze between high pri-

The second would require, "except as otherwise specifically prohibited by law, all state, county, township, municipal and school district records and those of all commissions, boards and authorities created by the Commonwealth or by any political sub-division be open for examination and inspection."

Throughout this area both meetings and records are generally open to the public. This is not the case in many other parts of the state, however.

It may be surprising to many to learn such legislation is necessary. If elected officials accepted the fact they are employed by the people and not the boss of the people, such laws would not be necessary.

As it now stands in many sections, public officials have ruled the people have no right to know what they are doing as officials.

Such an attitude is to be deplored, of course, and can be corrected only if both open-meeting and open-record laws with enforcement teeth in them are written into the statute books.

Both the audience and the press deluged Menuhin with applause and praise. They warmly welcomed, too, a young American conductor named Jonathan Sternberg.

In the past the U.S. Government has often financed tours of American orchestras or performers in the interest of showing the world our cultural riches. But Menuhin's appearance in Warsaw, so dramatically effective as U.S. propaganda, did not cost the American taxpayers a single penny.

Congratulations to him and to Sternberg for both an artistic triumph and a notable service to the nation. Their examples could well be copied.

Opportunities Unlimited

If Wish Is Sincere It Can Come True

By Anne Heywood
Maybe you can't fool all of the people all of the time, but you can certainly fool yourself most of the time. There's scarcely one of us who doesn't go in for large-scale self-delusion, especially when it comes to the things we want out of life.

The following examples will help to illustrate this point. "I'd just love to learn to play the piano, but of course I don't have the time." This is the way Mrs. A. began her letter. Then she went on to the subject which prompted her to write in the first place—her son and his vocational problem.

Sonny's Trouble
I sensed that part of Sonny's trouble was that Mommy was after him all the time, so I wrote and asked her to tell me about herself—what she did, how she budgeted her time.

In her reply I discovered that there were a good three hours a day that she wasted chatting with neighbors, making long phone calls or simply sitting and moping. Just one of those hours would have been enough to give her fondest wish and make a pianist of her.

She Loves Children
Mrs. B., on the other hand, "just loves children." Her own are grown now and her grand-children live across the country. She is miserable because there are no children in her life.

Actually, as I wrote Mrs. B., her neighborhood must have lots of overworked mothers who would love to have a place to leave a child for a couple of hours once in a while. It's good for the child, too, to know other grownups.

But both Mrs. A. and Mrs. B. have sold themselves the idea that their fondest wish is impossible of fulfillment. Maybe it's just laziness that keeps them from making their wishes come true, or ignorance of how to go about it. Again, maybe these aren't their real wishes at all! Our real wishes usually come true.

There's another woman I know who loves children. After her own grew and left home, she didn't sit around wishing for children in her life. She knuckled down and started a children's party service. Her life is full of children—and her purse is full of pin money!

If your wish involves children in your life, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper and I'll send you my pamphlet, Playing With Children For Profit.

Whatever your wish involves, do something about it—or stop fooling yourself!

An indignant citizen of Montreal writes that he saw the driver of a car with a Florida license cut into line so sharply ahead of a car with a Michigan license that the latter's left fender was crumpled. The Michigander promptly alighted from his car, took a quick look at the damage, and punched the Floridan solidly in the jaw. The latter recoiled against a wall, then complained to onlookers, "Some hospitality you guys have up here in Canada!"

Robert S. Allen Reports...

Fiscal-Credit Probe Promises To Be Stormy

Washington, April 29 — There are fireworks as well as billions in Senator Harry Byrd's investigation of the Administration's fiscal and credit policies.

From the way the probe's starting off, it will be as stormy as it is important.

An unpublished preliminary session produced both a turbulent clash and eye-popping information about stupendous debt totals in the U. S.

Under sharp grilling, Treasury Undersecretary W. Randolph Burgess confirmed:

That $793 billion is the present overall debt total in the country — federal, state and local, business and individuals.

This is a one-third increase over the $600 billion total five years ago.

Annual interest cost of the federal debt alone will soar to around $11.4 billion in ten years under current Treasury rates.

With the encouraging approval of Senator Byrd, these and other significant details were vigorously brought out by three committee-men—Senators Robert Kerr (D., Okla.), Russell Long (D., La.), and Albert Gore (D., Tenn.).

Particularly indicative of the explosive nature of this investigation was their blistering argument with Burgess over inflation.

These influential senators left little doubt they view Administration policies as highly inflationary and directly responsible for increased living and business costs.

Also that this politics-loaded contention is to be hammered home in the investigation.

Its first public hearings will likely get underway in several weeks.

Pro And Con—From this opening round, it is evident the Administration is to be put on the defensive and subjected to heavy fire.

This strategy was clearly indicated in the caustic discussion of the steadily mounting debt totals, soaring interest charges, and their far-reaching impact on the nation's economy.

In the forceful opinion of Senators Kerr, Long and Gore these consequences are inflationary and the Administration is to blame for it.

Undersecretary Burgess, who is in charge of the national debt, strongly denied that, and unshakably defended Administration policies.

Following are highlights of this significant debate, about which a lot more will be heard:

Kerr, citing that the average interest rate on the national debt is now 2.73 per cent as against 2.35 per cent in 1952, demanded, "Isn't that inflationary?"

"I think it's anti-inflationary," retorted Burgess.

"Do you think it is anti-inflationary," snapped Kerr, "when the government, meaning the people, will have to pay $4.4 billion more in interest on the federal debt in another ten years under the rates you have put into effect?"

"Yes, sir," firmly insisted Burgess.

The coldest day in winter, sum-

"And you still say it is anti-inflationary," continued Kerr, "when business will wind up paying $3.9 billion more interest on borrowings?"

"Well, it will slow down the borrowers a little," asserted Burgess.

"I'll say it will," asserted Kerr, "and it won't be a little. It will be a lot."

Senator Gore charged there is "direct correlation between the acceleration of interest rates and the acceleration of business failures."

"In 1952 there were 7,611 business failures, which represented 29 per 10,000," Gore said. "Since then there has been a steady increase in business failures every year. In 1953, the number rose to 8,862; in 1954, to 10,929; in 1955, there was another jump to 11,086. Last year, the number again increased to 12,686; and in the first two months of this year, there were 2,294 business failures, which constitutes an annual rate of considerably more than 50 per 10,000. That is virtually double what it was five years ago."

Senator Long closely questioned Burgess on whether the Administration favors high or low interest rates. The Treasury official declared there is no fixed policy on that.

"Do I understand you correctly," demanded Long, "that the Administration considers it is privileged to be unconcerned if the Federal Reserve System raises interest rates to such an extent that it adversely affects tens of millions of people?"

"Oh, no," exclaimed Burgess. "I don't say that. We are in contact with the Federal Reserve right along. We give them our opinion on such matters."

"I should think you would do a lot more than that," retorted Long. "This is a matter of supreme importance to everybody in the country. It's worth a lot more than just giving them your opinion. I have authoritative figures before me showing that when this Administration came into office, a house could be bought out that the federal debt for about $7,000 interest on a $10,000 loan. Now that same loan requires $11,000 in interest."

At the urging of Senator Byrd, questioning of Burgess also brought on that the federal debt is now $277 billion; state and local debt more than $50 billion; corporation debt around $253 billion; and individual debt near $215 billion.

Burgess also stated that more than $200 billion of the national debt, approximately three-fourths of it, comes due in ten years.

Note: Among the first witnesses due to be summoned before the probe is Treasury Secretary Humphrey. He has long been a target of Senators Kerr and Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), another Committee member who was not present at this session, but who will play a militant role in the investigation.

Undersecretary Burgess, who is in charge of the national debt, strongly denied that, and unshakably defended Administration policies.

Following are highlights of this significant debate, about which a lot more will be heard:

Kerr, citing that the average interest rate on the national debt is now 2.73 per cent as against 2.35 per cent in 1952, demanded, "Isn't that inflationary?"

"I think it's anti-inflationary," retorted Burgess.

"Do you think it is anti-inflationary," snapped Kerr, "when the government, meaning the people, will have to pay $4.4 billion more in interest on the federal debt in another ten years under the rates you have put into effect?"

"Yes, sir," firmly insisted Burgess.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

McGoofey's First Reader

Oh, see the man! What is the man's name? His name is Egbert. He is a lazy guy around the house and no busy bee at the office. But he is a reactivated wonder just now, a veritable beaver for energy.

Why is he such a ball of fire at the moment? Because he is a boat owner.

Egbert has suddenly become a study in swift motion. His wife hasn't

AMONG THE FIRST—Paul Bennett (left), Social Security contact officer, congratulates Charles Martin, of Pocono Pines, on being one of the first residents of Monroe County to qualify for payments under the new disability law.

Proper Filing Method Enables Pocono Pines Resident To Benefit From Social Security

POCONO PINES — Feb. 16, 1951 is an ominous date in the memory of Charles Martin.

On this date he was stricken with a disability so severe that he was informed by his physician he would never be able to work again. Until then, he was a hard-working man who appeared in the best of health.

Martin was born Sept. 29, 1904 and has been a resident of Pocono for the end of June will mean the loss of all their social security disability protection and in many cases it will also mean the loss of their rights to any old-age and survivors insurance benefits for themselves and their families in the future, according to Harry R. Peterman, district manager for the Social Security office in Easton.

In other cases, failure to file an application to protect disability that 2½ year period, an application will be effective to freeze a worker's social security record for no more than one year back.

Martin having filed his application before June 30, had his claim approved retroactive to Feb. 16, 1951. If he waited until after June 30, 1957 to file his application he would have lost all disability insurance protection, since after this date an application will be effective to freeze a worker's social security record for no more than one year back.

Each disabled person must meet certain work requirements at the beginning of his official "period of disability." He must have social security credit for at least five out of 10 years before he became disabled and at least a year and a half of the credit must have been earned in the three years just before his official "period of disability" began.

In Martin's case, he met the condition of having worked one and one-half years in the three year period prior to disability. If he filed his claim after June 30, he would not meet this requirement, since his "official period of disability" would only be retroactive one year and not having worked since 1951, his claim would be disallowed.

Peterman urged all disabled persons who have not previously inquired and who believe they are eligible under the disability provisions of the Act, to complete and mail the coupon below to the Social Security office, 204 Northampton St., Easton.

Pines for most of his life. Since he became disabled, he has faced economic and social pressures which to him often seemed insurmountable. Expensive medical treatments, prosthetic devices, special foods are but a few of the requirements necessary to live with total disability and therein lies the importance of the date June 30, 1957.

The failure of many disabled people to file an application be-rights might result in much lower benefit being paid at age 65 or to survivors in case of death.

Peterman said social security district offices have been accepting applications from disabled workers since Jan. 1, 1955, but many disabled workers have not yet applied. Under the law workers who were already disabled were given two and one-half years to apply to protect their social security rights. After June 30, the end of

Serfass Quits As Ross Constable

JAMES E. SERFASS has resigned as Ross Township constable.

Serfass' letter of resignation from the post was received and read yesterday by Monroe County Commissioners in regular meeting at the county court house.

Advice

Commissioners were advised by their solicitor Leo A. Achterman to turn the letter over to Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts N. Henry Fenner.

Achterman told commissioners that the county board "has nothing to do with the appointment of constables. Chief Clerk H. Ray Saunders was ordered by John L. Foelker for theft of junk on a Cherry Valley farm April 19.

Two Youths Make Restitution

TWO AREA youths were released from custody yesterday after paying restitution and costs before Justice of the Peace John Foelker for theft of junk on a Cherry Valley farm April 19.

Stroudsburg State police said that Clifford Winters, Stofflet St., Stroudsburg, and Robert Morris, Gilbert St., East Stroudsburg, paid unspecified sums to Foelker on a charge prosecuted by Jerome Blakeslee, owner of the Cherry Valley farm from which the material was taken.

David Miller To Present Hypnotic Program Tonight

MOUNT POCONO Rotary Club is sponsoring a performance to be given by the well known hypnotist, David L. Miller, to be held at Pocono Manor Inn auditorium today at 8 p. m.

Miller, who has performed for many organizations in this area and appears weekly at several Pocono resorts, is recognized as an outstanding hypnotist. His program is most entertaining and includes demonstrations of post-hypnotic suggestions, age regression, negative and positive hallucination with various humorous

Two Fire Companies Beat Down 30-Acre Fire At Dump

STROUD TOWNSHIP FIREMEN and the Saylorsburg fire company successfully beat down a 30-acre roaring inferno at the Stroudsburg dump yesterday.

Firemen were called out at 4:05 p. m.; returned to the fire house at 5:45. Fire company spokesman Art Kitzman said that the grass-brush fire was caused by wind-fanned sparks and debris from the burning dump.

High Flames
Flames soared 20 to 25 feet in the air, Kitzman said and roared through high grass consuming the 30 acres in little more than an hour. Firemen from Middle and Southern Stroud were joined by the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., Saylorsburg in fighting the blaze. No property damage was caused in the fire and no homes or other buildings were threatened, Kitzman said.

What Young People Think

Should Papers Publish Names Of Delinquents

By Eugene Gilbert
President of the Gilbert Youth
Research Co.

SHOULD the names of young lawbreakers be published in newspapers?

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has urged this as a means of curbing juvenile delinquency. But what do teen-agers themselves think?

This is one issue on which they are split almost down the middle.

While they agree generally on a "get tough" policy for handling young criminals, a large number feel that notoriety merely gives them a feeling of importance.

"They get their charge from the publicity," argues Rory, a Long Beach, Calif., teen. "One good way to cut down on juvenile crime would be to let the press ignore all teen-age hoods. Let the judge take care of them."

Forty-eight percent of the young people we talked to go along with him for one reason or another. Only 41 percent favor publication of the names. About 11 percent didn't answer the question.

Those in favor of publication think that codding in this as well as other respects leads to further transgressions, and that some youngsters may be taught a lesson if their families are sufficiently humiliated.

Divided On Age Too
If you are going to print names, at what age should it start? About half of the teenagers thought it should start before the age of 17. The age of 18 was a popular one for a starting point, but nearly a fourth of the group thought that publication should not start until age 21.

The division on the printing of names was closer than on any similar study we have made. Close divisions are rare in studies of this kind.

On the treatment of delinquents, however, the youngsters are not divided.

They Say "Get Tough"
Ninety percent of more than 5000 youngsters interviewed in another survey believe penalties imposed these days aren't severe enough.

"You've just got to show them who's boss, or they'll show you," a teen from Camden, Ark., says.

"Give the goofs a taste of their own medicine. Scare the guts out of them, and you'll soon see the difference," advises a Chicago lad.

Most young people — from 80 to 87 percent of those interviewed — would mete out indeterminate jail sentences for offenses like smoking marijuana, using narcotics, street fighting, driving a stolen car, vandalism.

Adults are afraid to punish delinquents because of their youth, youngsters say, and lawbreakers take advantage of their reluctance.

"They don't dare do anything to us," one interviewer reports hearing. "We're as free as birds to do anything we want until we're at least 18. They can't stop us because, after all, aren't we the same age as their own kids—the little brats?"

Most of the teens defined juvenile delinquent as a young person who is first and foremost a lawbreaker. Many go on to suggest he is a neurotic, maladjusted youngster who feels out of step with the world.

Most youngsters rest the burden on the parents. The home environment accounts for nearly nine-tenths of all delinquency, they say.

A child stands a good chance of becoming a criminal, insist high school boys and girls, if he doesn't find love and understanding in his home. It doesn't matter if the family is rich or poor — it's the parental interest that counts.

They reason this way:

Everyone has to feel important somewhere. If parents don't care, the child will likely as not fall into bad company to find acceptance among others who aren't wanted. He'll get satisfaction, too, in being important to the police.

But most teens are optimistic. A young delinquent can be turned into a useful citizen, they insist, if his parents will take hold with love and understanding.

Of course, the young people interviewed don't think of themselves as delinquents. Eighty-four percent say none of their friends are, either.

In fact, they're pretty indignant about what delinquents — which they consider a small minority — are doing to their reputations.

Ridiculed At Home

EDINBURGH, April 29 (AP)—John Kinloch, 77, told a conference on tourism that when Americans visit Scotland they expect to see Scotsmen wearing kilts.

But, he complained, "There is hardly a boy who dares to wear the kilt to school in Edinburgh."

Kinloch, a retired schoolmaster, said he had worn his kilt all over the world and, "The only place I've been ridiculed has been in Scotland, where I have been shouted at in the street."

Army Offers Training To Seniors In Monroe, Pike

TECHNICAL training of every type and description is being offered this week to high school seniors of Monroe and Pike Counties under a new guaranteed school program offered by the U.S. Army.

Heading the program in this area is SFC Donald K. Smith, local Army Recruiter with offices in the Post Office Building, Stroudsburg.

During this week Sgt. Smith plans to contact all Monroe and Pike high school seniors through a direct mailing program. His week-long program will reach its climax this Saturday morning at a special Enrollment Day Program at the Penn-Stroud Hotel in Stroudsburg. All area high school seniors and graduates are invited to attend under no obligation.

According to Sgt. Smith, the object of conducting his Enrollment Program before graduation this year is twofold. First, it allows area seniors to apply for the schools of their choice early so there is no delay when they graduate and secondly by applying for schools this early, Monroe and Pike seniors will get the jump on all other Army School applicants throughout the country and get approval of their school choice before many of the courses fill their quotas as usually happens every year after high school graduation.

Sgt. Smith further related that Army School applicants are under no obligation of any kind and that he encourages all area seniors and graduates to attend his program next Saturday morning at 10 a.m. at the Penn-Stroud Hotel even if they just seek further information and are not planning to apply for Army schooling.

Further information may be obtained by calling Sgt. Smith at Stroudsburg 5347.

Effort

WARREN GURSKY was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem, as a surgical patient. Mrs. Gursky is spending some time in Bethlehem to be near her husband.

Mrs. Leroy Shupp entertained a group of friends of her son, Garry, on his birthday.

Miss Patricia Bizousky and Miss Nancy Garver were weekend guests of Patricia Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rinker entertained Bible Study Class at their home. There were 14 members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Murphy visited Mrs. Cora Miller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Raughley, Bordheadsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brong and son, Keith, and Collins Brong, of Reading, were guests at a birthday dinner given for Miss Mary George, of Saylorburg, by her mother, Mrs. Grace George.

Robert Hawk, of Allentown, and Mrs. Byron Smith, of Easton, visited relatives here and attended the funeral of Mrs. Emma Shoen on Thursday.

Here's How Army Specialized Schooling Works:

- ★ You make application for the school of your choice through your Army Recruiter (two choices).
- ★ Within ten days you receive word on your application directly from the Adjutant General, Washington, D. C.
- ★ Having then gotten your written guarantee to attend the school of your choice, you may enlist anytime you wish (not before graduation, though).
- ★ Even after going this far, you are under no obligation of any kind. You may cancel your school commitment at any time, or if you change your mind, you may reapply for another school.
- ★ Buddies will remain together if they choose the same Course.
- ★ After Basic Training (only 8 weeks) you are given a leave to come home. From your leave you report to your chosen school to begin your training.

IT'S AS SIMPLE AS THAT!

APPEALING TOURIST STOP

A FAMILIAR SIGHT and sound for thousands of visitors to Ottawa is the famed carillon in the Peace tower of the Parliament buildings. The largest of the 53 bells in the carillon weighs 22,400 pounds and the smallest only 10 pounds. Carillonneur Robert Donnell has made more than 2,000 arrangements for the bells. Playing the carillon takes strength as well as skill. The keyboard is six feet long and consists of keys forced down by the fist. Special guards have to be worn by the carillonneur to protect his hands.

Peace tower is home of Canadian capital's carillon.

He's really pounding out tunes on peg-like keys.

This is part of the battery of 53 bells in the carillon.

Air Conditioning Held Essential To Remodeling Structure

Lawton Huffman Is Dealer For Carrier Air Conditioner

AIR CONDITIONING has become a "Number One" factor to consider in home remodeling along with electric wiring and plumbing according to Lawton Huffman, local Carrier Corp. dealer at Craigs Meadows, who points out that it may have a profound influence on most other portions of a remodeling program.

One of the important considerations in home improvement is to avoid building obsolescence into the structure, Huffman said. For example, adding a room or relocating doors or windows may mean alterations to or perhaps replacement of the heating system. And proper precautions taken to insure the heating plant, ducts and outlets are suitable for future air conditioning may cost not a penny more now but guarantee considerable savings later.

Air conditioning can set the home remodeler free to locate windows where he now needs to have them to satisfy the arbitrary requirements of cross-ventilation. It may add a third or half again as much usable living space to his home by removing summer dampness from his basement and thus obviating the need to construct extra space elsewhere.

It can also affect choice of colors and fabrics for interior redecoration and through its influence on location of doors and windows permit a wider variety of furniture arrangement. Air conditioning may even influence the color for the new exterior paint job or the kind of shingles selected for the roof.

Ground Floor
If you heat with an obsolete furnace then you may want to put air conditioning right on the ground floor of your remodeling plans with a year-round unit to provide both heating and cooling. However, if your budget restricts you to just heating with cooling in mind for a later date, the answer is an "air conditioning design" furnace such as that developed by Carrier.

It is easily adapted to air conditioning by inserting a summer cooling coil into the top of the furnace and connecting it to a refrigerating unit in the garage or any other convenient outside location.

Redecorating becomes an easier chore with air conditioning along because its filtered air permits the use of lighter colors for paint, wallpaper, and fabrics. Clean, conditioned air insures that light colors stay that way longer.

As a consideration of the greatest importance, air conditioning will help to protect the investment in your remodeled home, according to Huffman, who points out that homes without year-round climate control will be approaching obsolescence within a few years. This will mean the air conditioned home will be high in resale value while the home without it will have to take second place in price.

And if you're planning to repair or put on a new roof, remember that light-colored walls and white shingles or marble chip roof will cut cooling costs.

Easy financing terms have been put into reach for the home owner so that air conditioning can be included in remodeling plans. Financing is available under FHA Title I loans and through private arrangements including a no-down-payment plan provided by Carrier Corp. through its local dealers.

The Lawton Huffman Co. is also equipped to make fast, efficient commercial air conditioning installations. Air conditioning in stores and restaurants has proven to be "good business."

Provide Adequate Light
WHEN ADDING new rooms in your basement, attic or elsewhere in your house, remember to provide adequate light and air, home experts urge.

So prove to yourself the few cents extra per gallon necessary for better grade finishes will, in the long run, be returned many times over. For the right finish for every surface, depend upon Valspar Marine Finishes.

Pride of ownership, as you know, is boating's greatest pleasure. It's complete when your craft reflects that pride in trim, ship-shape appearance that lasts through season after season.

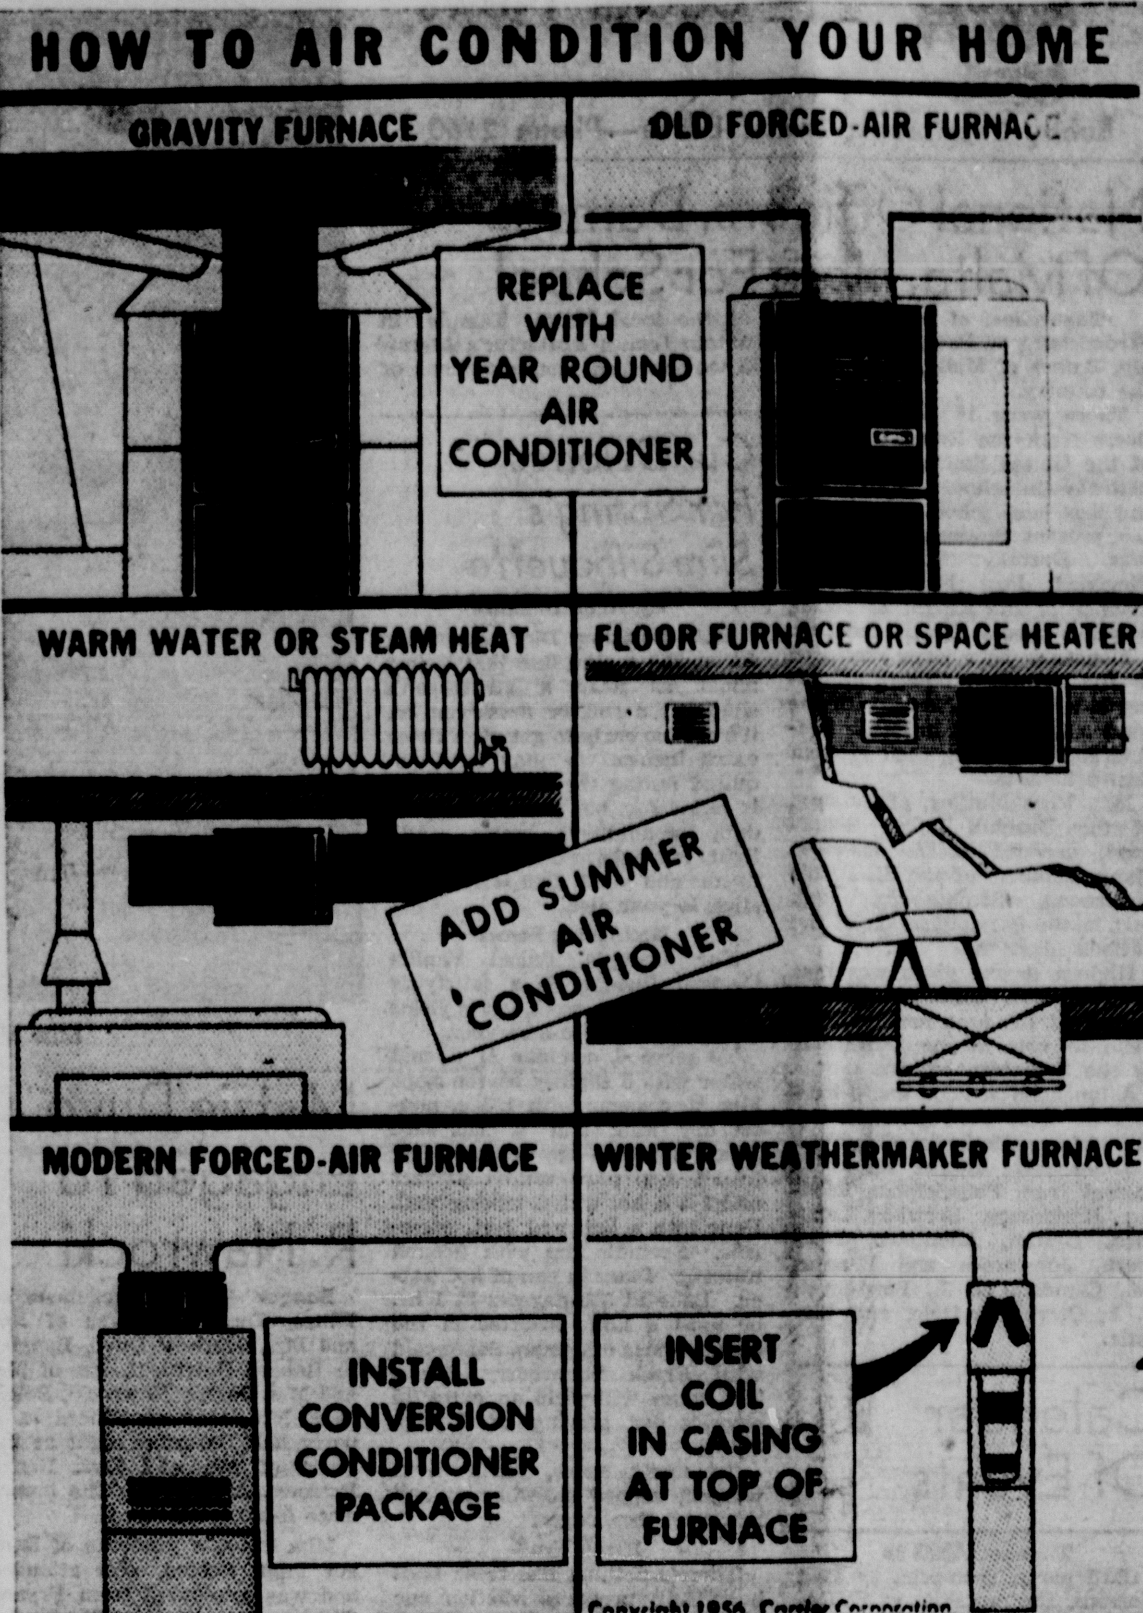

This proper upkeep and protection will determine the life of your boat.

Proper upkeep can be made easier and your long-run costs lower if you start with the right finish.

Common Sense
Your boat represents a substantial investment. It is just common sense to protect that investment with the best care possible.

After all, the greatest cost in painting is not the paint required, but the labor (your own or paid professional) by which it is applied.

For example, the finish on hulls, or topsides (usually white) need never be stripped to the wood if top quality finishes have been applied properly under the right conditions.

THINKING OF COMPLETE AIR CONDITIONING?—For existing homes your best choice depends on the type of heating as shown above. Where there is an obsolete gravity furnace or worn out forced warm air heating plant, replacement with a Carrier Corp. Weathermaker is most economical in the long run. If you're replacing a forced air furnace you'll be able to use the same ductwork. And scrapping your obsolete gravity furnace and streamlining basement ducts will give you an "extra room" downstairs—clean, new and unobstructed.

Job Lasting, Attractive

A HOME is the biggest single investment most families can make. The appearance of a home can be spoiled easily by a muddy, rut-filled driveway. A paved driveway will improve the appearance of any home.

A blacktop driveway eliminates dust, dirt and mud being tracked into the house. The average blacktop driveway can be constructed, ready for use, in a day or less.

Just as a highway or a parking lot require good foundations if they are to require a minimum of repairs, a durable driveway must have a good foundation.

The right kinds of stone, sand and asphaltic cement—in the exact sizes, grades and proportions—needed to turn out a rugged, smooth and long-lasting blacktop driveway.

In making sure that a top quality blacktop driveway is obtained, much depends on the efficiency of a blacktop company's equipment—the facilities that dry and heat the stone and sand, then mixing them with hot asphaltic cement for thorough bonding.

For a thorough job that is both lasting and attractive, call Shiffer's Bituminous Service, one of the most experienced blacktop firms in this locality.

Festival Of Color Being Held At Fetherman Store

FETHERMAN'S PAINT STORE, 1016 W. Main St., is now holding a special "Festival of Color" Spring Sale. You'll find many good paint bargains.

Have you seen Glidden's new Dramatone color system? It puts 175 colors in Spred Satin, the original latex paint, alyd flats and semi-gloss oil paints at your disposal.

Now, with Dramatone tints, you can also have 20 beautiful pastel shades in Glidden's Endurance house paint, in addition to the 16 ready-mixed colors.

Also, with the use of Dramatone and intermixes, you can have 24 different colors in Glidden's Floor Enamel for interior or exterior use.

Color is no longer a problem when you let Dramatone be your guide. You can have large 16-oz. in. color chips to take home for use in planning your color schemes.

Before you do any painting this Spring, it will pay you to ask about Glidden's Endurance house paint. Your house can have that "picture book" look you have always wanted, with the finest colors that science can produce.

Applied With Ease
Endurance is formulated to give years of protection, to apply with extreme ease, to retain its beauty beyond expectation.

Protect your investment and enhance the value of your home with colors selected from the paint that lives up to its name: Endurance! For homes of stucco, brick, concrete, or asbestos shingle siding, there is none better than Spred Glide-on.

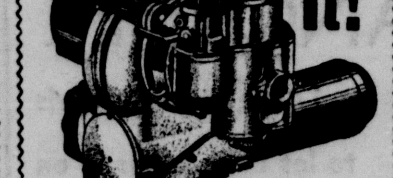

It is a revolutionary new vinyl-latex paint for all masonry surfaces. Keeps out moisture, yet "breathes" to let moisture escape from inside, thus preventing blistering.

Your brush or roller can easily be cleaned with soap and water.

Be Careful Of Paints
DON'T EVER try to mix oil-based and latex paints together. It won't work. Oil paint is soluble in turpentine or mineral spirits; latex, in water.

Tip For Painters
TO PREVENT ladder marks when painting the exterior of your house, wrap rags or slip a pair of old socks over the ladder ends that lean against the siding.

We'll Prove It!

You can now save up to 50% in fuel!

That's right—up to 50%! Come in today for a demonstration of the Winkler LP... the low pressure oil burner that's saving money for owners everywhere.

The LP eliminates wasteful over-firing—because it can be sized exactly to your heating requirements. It cuts costly service work because of its non-clog nozzle. Burns all domestic fuel oils—even the hard-to-burn catalytic.

Girl Scouts Plant Trees At The Camp

About 60 Girl Scouts and their families and friends turned out for the tree-planting frolic at Camp Lloyd Treible on Mosier's Knob on Saturday. They worked with a will, planting pine and spruce as a screen along the road, in a grove behind the lodge, in open spaces in the woods.

Although the camp site has many types of trees, there were no pines or spruce on the property, and the conservation project was undertaken under the direction of Mrs. Gilbert Scharf and the camping committee of the Monroe County Girl Scout Council.

Most of the 1000 trees were planted and the rest trenched in for future plantings. The camp committee served hot dogs and soda at noon to the workers.

Faithful Workers Have Meeting At Zion Church

The Faithful Workers Class of the Zion Reformed Church held its April meeting at the church social rooms. A social time followed the business meeting.

Those present included Mabel Setzer, Mary Vaughn, Bertha Valterscamp, Esther Blatt, Sarah Frailey, Ruth Bossard, Lucy Quig, Minnie Winters, Clementine Crossdale and Emma Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anthony Gargone (Lawrence Studio)

Miss Nancy Getz Is Easter Bride Of Robert Gargone

Banked Easter lilies formed the background for the marriage of Miss Nancy Carol Getz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold James Getz, 2060 Miller St., Stroudsburg, and Robert Anthony Gargone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armen C. Gargone, 764 Main St., Stroudsburg.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the double ring ceremony at 2 p. m., on Easter Sunday at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church. Ernest Michelfelder was at the console of the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The bodice of lace featured a scoop neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. The bouffant nylon tulle skirt had back and front-elastic panels. Her veil of imported illusion was arranged from a crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried an orchid on a white ribbon.

Miss Lois Brombacher, of Scranton, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of Nile green with white velvet ray over taffeta. The draped neckline in chiffon ended in a wide streamer over the full skirt. She wore a silk half-hat with a veil and carried a colonial bouquet of roses and carnations.

Similar in style were the gowns worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Patricia Gargone, Stroudsburg, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Patricia Rinker, East Stroudsburg, cousin of the bride. They wore matching hats and colonial bouquets in matching shades of Spring flowers. Miss Gargone was in yellow and Miss Rinker in aqua.

Harry Shannon, East Stroudsburg, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Donald Foley and Robert Bentzoni, both of Stroudsburg, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy dress with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother also wore navy with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception for about 150 guests was held at the Elks Home, East Stroudsburg. Leaving for a wedding trip through New York State, the bride wore a navy and white tulle suit with navy and white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and is employed with the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. in the book-keeping department. Mr. Gargone is also a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and is presently serving with the U. S. Army, stationed at Fort Dix, N. J.

Nurses Prepare For Observance Of Nurse Week

By proclamation of Governor George M. Leader, the week of May 12 to 18 this year has been proclaimed Pennsylvania Health Week and Pennsylvania Nurse Week.

Honoring the thousands of Pennsylvania nurses and all others whose lives are spent in health careers, Governor Leader, by a joint resolution of the Pennsylvania Legislature, proclaims it "fitting that the attention of the citizens be focused on the contributions, past and present, which the nursing profession has made to the people's welfare and security."

President of the Pennsylvania Nurses Association is Mrs. Martha Cunningham Sharkey of Philadelphia. Starting with the 137th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale on May 12, the week will feature church services, social functions, radio programs, window displays, and other activities with the theme, "Guardians of your Health."

National Officers, Dames Of Malta, Here For School

The school of instruction held at the local Malta Temple in Stroudsburg on Saturday by the Mountain Laurel Protector's Assembly, Dames of Malta, drew about 275 women from many sections of the country.

There were 14 Sovereign Officers from the Dames of Malta of the United States and Canada here for the school of instruction, the first such school attended by the present Sovereign Protector, Mrs. Dorothy Boyd, Howard Siegfried, Past National Commander of the Knight of Malta, was also present for the meeting.

Monetary gifts were presented to the sovereign officers attending in a court of honor, with the women taking part in Easter bonnets and presenting their gifts in Easter baskets.

Mrs. Rosa Muffley, of Tatamy, of the Bushkill Valley Sisterhood, presided at the meeting. Many members of the St. John's Sisterhood, Stroudsburg, took part in the exemplification of the various degrees.

Highest degree given was that of Protector, conferred on 19 women of the area and entitling them to vote in the Zennodora, by the Sovereign officers.

A luncheon at noon and a banquet at night were given at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church. There were Dames of Malta present from Philadelphia, Reading, Harrisburg, Berwick, Lancaster, Easton, Allentown, Nazareth, Johnstown and Bangor, Pa., Camden, N. J., Pawtucket, R. I., Cleveland, Ohio, and Virginia.

Cut Calories For Spring's Slim Silhouette

By Alice Denhoff

With Christian Dior advocating for spring a slim line that is just about as near a stringbean's shape as a suit or dress can be, it's not too early to get after those extra inches we may have acquired during the winter. Dieting is called for, but it needn't mean dull, monotonous meals. Add light, low-calorie desserts to your menus and you'll find it easier to stick to your diet.

Nourishing Sweet

For example, Baked Vanilla Custard Pudding is a satisfying and nourishing sweet, yet it yields only 94 calories to a serving.

To serve 6, combine 1/4 c. cold water with 3 slightly beaten eggs. Mix 1/4 c. sugar with 1/3 c. non-fat dry milk and 1/4 tsp. salt. Blend with the egg mixture. Stir in 1 1/2 tsp. pure vanilla extract and 1 1/2 c. hot water, mixing well. Pour into a buttered 1-qt. casserole. Sprinkle top with ground nutmeg. Place in pan of hot water. Bake at 300 degrees F. 1 hr. or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Serve cold with Fresh Strawberry Sauce. The sauce will yield an extra 15 calories per serving of 1 tsp. each.

To make sauce, mash 1/4 c. washed, capped strawberries and mix with tsp. sugar.

Fresh Fruit

There's nothing like fresh fruit beautifully prepared whether one is dieting or not. Besides, it means extra health and vitality!

For a seasonal fruit cup to serve 8, with 50 calories per serving, combine 2 c. fresh pineapple wedges, 3 tsp. sugar, tsp. fresh lemon juice, 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. pure vanilla extra. Let stand for at least 3 hr. in refrigerator.

Just before serving, add 2 c. sliced fresh strawberries. Serve in sherbet glasses with a garnish of fresh mint leaves.

Tasty Compote

For a tasty compote to serve 6, with 81 calories per serving, combine 2 tsp. sugar, tsp. fresh lemon juice and 1/2 c. fresh orange juice. Bring to boiling point.

When cool, add tsp. pure vanilla extract. Add 2 c. fresh orange sections and 1 c. halved seeded grapes. Chill and serve.

We've found that the addition of the vanilla brings out the sweetness of the fresh fruit, adds a piquant flavor and helps to cut down the quantity of sugar.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

You can have too much of a good thing, even the beauty of Spring. It's like having three Thanksgiving dinners all at once—or getting all your Christmas, birthday, and Mother's Day presents the same day. You get sort of overwhelmed by it all.

Where in most Springtimes, you can savor the beauty of the first violets, huddle over the hepatics, run to the window to watch the first robins, hail the opening of the buds, one by one, this year Spring is bustin' out all over so fast you can fairly hear the buds pop, and all within the space of a week.

In normal times, there's a procession of blossoms: first the dogwood, then the peach, then the cherry and plum, and finally the apples and lilacs. But this year it's like watching a moving picture on a souped-up projector, everything rushing like crazy.

You can break your heart trying to absorb it all or you can ignore it, but you can't really appreciate this crazy mixed-up Spring.

Sparking of too much of a good thing, the Girl Scouts found out on Saturday how much 1000 trees are. Still they did get a lot of them planted up at Camp Lloyd Treible, and I'll bet by the time they finished in the heat waves, they were making a mental note that with their first million they'd donate a swimming pool to the camp, dedicated especially to tree planters.

Well, if the natives are overwhelmed by nature's bounty these days, think how impressed our visitors must be—and we've had them: the Presbyterian on Friday, the Mountain Laurel Protectors on Saturday, and yesterday the Lutheran men—not to mention the honeymooners in their matching shirts.

They were reveling in springtime. The rest of you seemed to be enjoying it, too. So maybe the fault doesn't lie with having too much of a good thing; maybe it lies with me in not being big enough to contain it all alone.

A hippopotamus has big teeth. Some of its molars weigh as much as seven pounds.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Ann Williams of our Tea Room staff stopped me Friday night to ask if I'd seen Mrs. Victor Taylor. "She's back from Virginia," Ann told me, "and had dinner here this evening. She was very tired—didn't get in until late this afternoon, but she was asking for you and wanted to see you." Well, I missed her—but there are always other days, for when Lily Taylor is in town, she's in Wyckoff's mood of the time. Good to have her back! . . . It's good to see Eva Brodsky enjoying a stroll along sunny Main street too. Not until she told me, did I know that Eva was in—and out of the hospital during my five days in Boston . . . How's YOUR wardrobe these days? Personally, mine is practically non-existent. I don't know why it is last year's dresses always look so peculiar on me when they're hauled out of the closet. Some lucky people retain their dimensions—but I never do. They're either too tight through the bustline, too large in the waistline, or too short. To be perfectly honest about it, I find that buying the new dresses from Mardee Wyckoff's department is just as inexpensive as paying today's prices for alterations. Of course, if you are one of those gifted people who can sew at home, it's a different matter, lucky you! . . . One of these days we'll be selling cans of Stixi Au Fromage in our candy department. Already they have arrived in our receiving room, and the description on the tin says they are "croustissants, croquants, and delicates." Which, in my language adds up to the fact that they're darned good Cheese Sticks . . . Becoming confidential over the task of polishing my fingernails, Mary George of our Wyckoff beauty salon, confides that the march music played every Thursday morning over our store amplifying system is somewhat disturbing to her. "There I am," she says, "snipping away at somebody's hair or giving them a shampoo, and trying to keep time with the music. Boy, do they get the works that day!" It could be disastrous, come to think of it, but as I pointed out, alternate Thursdays (being pay days) those marches probably make Margaret Hunter step even livelier than usual—so there's good in all things! . . . Stopped in the center aisle to chat with my cousin, Betty Lee Hirt, her cute little Judy, and her mother, Mrs. Judson Lee. Funny thing, but I still haven't seen the new Hirt home which, everyone tells me, is lovely. It's a sad commentary on the pace we live, that most of us never really do get around to courting those friendships that mean the most to us—everyone seems bogged down by an endless round of chores and responsibilities that probably get far more attention than they actually rate . . . I have an idea those pretty little cotton Junior Dresses that just arrived in Mardee Wyckoff's department won't be with us long. Of sanforized combed cotton, they come in two styles—one with lavishly ruffled sissy front, and demure collar; the other with a jewel neckline, banded in the same material and vertically tucked down the front to an interesting waistline set off by a big sash tied with a butterfly bow. The size range is 7 to 15, and the colors maize, pink, blue and mint. We're giving them away for a mere 8.98 . . . Dolly Erdman tells me Ann Sothorn in her TV role of Susie MacNamara, "Private Secretary," has done more for the Slim Jim umbrella than perhaps anyone else. Certainly she has made her public conscious of the fact that an umbrella can be as chic and beautiful as it is utilitarian. The new fabrics have done a great deal for umbrellas too—for one thing, the synthetics are much quicker drying than the cottons and silks of an earlier era; also, they absorb less water, and are less inclined to fade or discolor. As a result, today's umbrellas at 5.00 and less are perfectly beautiful. We were looking over the display the other day and marveling at the handles—some resemble sticks of candy, some are as intricately cut as crystals, some are as brilliant as jewels. One white umbrella with aqua dots and handle, seemed particularly suited to summer, and Dolly told me she'll soon be receiving a big shipment of plain white umbrellas, and white with flower print. Watch for them and own your own rainbow!

Basketball
Baseball
By Bob Clark
Sports Editor

SUGAR RAY Robinson, the fighter who has exchanged the middleweight title more times than any other boxer in the division, tries to get it back again tomorrow night in Chicago Stadium.

This time it will be Gene Fullmer, the titleholder, who will do his usual piddling against the Harlem dandy before the TV cameras from coast to coast. (Locally ABC will telecast the bout to the armchair fans.)

Tomorrow's return Windy City fiasco will be the old story "Age versus Youth." Sugar, who admits to 36 but is credited in some boxing circles to have passed 37 years of age, is the veteran in question. Fullmer, the Mormon from Utah who turned a stout heart and a never-give-up attitude into the championship, is the youth in question. Gene is 23 years old.

If you go by the records there is little to choose between. Naturally, Fullmer, only fighting the shorter period has the smaller record, 40 victories in 43 fights. Twenty of these wins were by knockouts.

Robinson, on the other hand, has been around a long time and has a remarkable 138-won, 5-loss, 3 draws and has scored a phenomenal 90 knockouts.

Over the years, Sugar Ray has been tagged at different intervals one of the greatest fighters, pound for pound, boxing has ever known. Fullmer, who in two years worked his way out of the club fighter status, still has a long way to go to be ranked with any of the ring greats.

Robinson in all his bouts based his success on finesse built around a square circle science and the ability to find an opening and ultimately strike for the win. However, in his first bout with Fullmer, the Sugar Boy didn't have the equipment to cope with Fullmer's straight-ahead tactics. Some say, Robinson, like all fighters who reach peak, had started downhill and this was easily pushed further backward by a strong Fullmer.

Today, Robinson's camp shout in confidence that the former Dancing Master will make hay in this set to just as he did in return bouts with Jake LaMotta and England's Randy Turpin. He lost to the latter two and then beat them the next time around.

It is true as the record attests that Robby took 'em after dropping the duke the first time. But this was quite awhile ago . . . Even before Sugar retired and took up dancing for a living. It's been a long time since Robinson showed the fans the Robinson of old. Certainly he put away a mixed up Bobo Olson, but we would wager that the Bobo would have been easy victim for any fair-to-middling middleweight those nights.

Time catches up with all men in the sports world, whether it be boxing or what have you. Fighters especially have the know-how and that great wealth of experience accumulated over the years. But the self same "fistic Rhodes Scholars" lose the reflexes that are needed to put the knowledge in motion. Joe Louis found this out against Rocky Marciano. Jersey Joe Walcott and Archie Moore had a taste of it against the same Brockton Block Buster. We no doubt have the same feeling that Rocky would find the same answer if he, by chance, decided to return.

At this writing the odds are 3-1 on Fullmer retaining the crown. They could go higher or they might be a flood of Robinson money by fight time. Whatever the case you can pick 'em. But from here the 3-1 notation looks okay for youth.

Pocono Twp. Rallies To Top Polk, 3-1

Frailey Bests Kresge In Hurling Duel

KRESGEVILLE — Paul Frailey bested Butch Kresge in an old-fashioned hurling duel here yesterday and Pocono Township opened up its 1957 Monroe Scholastic League season with a 3-1 triumph over Polk.

Harry Werkheiser's Pocono nine had to rally in the sixth inning to pull out the verdict. Polk held a 1-0 edge going into the sixth when the Tannersville team came up with three tallies.

Frailey, a righthander, was touched for five hits and struck out 14. Kresge also allowed only five safeties. He fanned 13.

Starmer 3-For-3

Pocono's Larry Starmer was the hitting star of the game, getting three-for-three, including a double and an important RBI in the sixth. Ed Pooley garnered the other two Pocono bingles.

Joe Romancavage topped the Polk attack with two hits, including a double.

It was the second loss in league competition for Polk. They have one victory to their credit.

Laurel Track Has Longest Shot Of All

LAUREL, Md., April 29 — Laurel racetracks today were offered a chance on a long shot to end all long shots:

Pick 16 winners in 16 races and get a $5,000 U. S. savings bond.

The $5,000 parlay, as Laurel calls it, will involve two eight-race cards next Wednesday and Friday.

Pick all 16 winners and you get $5,000. If the highest number of winners selected is 15, a $4,000 bond will be awarded, with a $3,000 bond for 14 winners and a $2,000 bond for 13.

A $1,000 bond will be given for the most winners picked from one to 12.

Only one prize will be given to the person selecting the most winners. To take part you have to be at the track and be as Laurel put it an "amateur handicapper."

Plus $91,000

To go into even higher finance: Supposed the racetrack who picked the 16 winners had enough faith in his selections to back the first one with $2. Suppose he won $2 for each $2 invested. By continuing to re-invest his winning he'd strike a real bangtail bonanza; Some $91,000 for his original $2 plus the $5,000 bond.

Experts Believe Phil Ace's Fastball Gone, Control Off

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 — As they ask in the trade, has Robin Roberts had it?

The great righthander of the Philadelphia Phillies, winner of 179 games in nine seasons, has lost his first three starts in 1957, and in only one game did he look like the Robin Roberts fans are used to watching. What's wrong? The answer won't get you to the next plateau, but it's just as tough.

The so-called experts believe the 30-year-old pitcher has lost the snap on his fast ball and that his control, usually razor sharp, is off the beam. They discount the home run ball because all pitchers throw them, and Roberts, on a per inning pitched basis, is not the number one man in this department.

No Complaints

Roberts himself, offers this food for thought.

"I haven't had the good stuff I had in the past, but I'll get it back. I'm concerned, but not worried. I haven't given up and I have no complaints. Whatever has happened I've done myself."

Roberts, a 20 game or better winner from 1950 through 1955, admits that he's not as fast as he once was. After all, you can't pitch 2.25 innings—an average of 319 a year for seven years and not have it take some toll on your arm.

No Changes

Does he plan any changes in his style, perhaps a new pitch or two to compensate for his loss of speed?

"No, I'm going to keep right on pitching the way I always have," he says.

Manager Mayo Smith says he still has great confidence in his star pitcher and plans to go ahead pitching him in regular four day rotation.

Klu Undergoes Examination

CINCINNATI, April 29 — Ted Kluszewski, ailing Cincinnati first baseman, entered Christ Hospital late today for "as complete an examination as any one in the world ever had."

Big Klu, racked with pain from a hip ailment, has not played since the opening game of the season. He has appeared several times as a pinch hitter.

Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, said the finest specialists in the country will be called to examine the muscle man from head to foot.

Softball Loop Officially Open Today

NEBEL'S MARKET and Tobyhanna Depot will officially open the 1957 Monroe County Softball League today at Stroudsburg Playground Field, starting at 6:15 p. m.

The circuit was slated to open last night with Al Bessecker's Diner and 579th Signal Company inaugurating the campaign, but a mixup in the schedule forced two combatants to play an exhibition game. It will be made up at a later date.

However, the league did get unofficially under way with the tossing of the first ball by Stroudsburg Burgess Hal H. Harris. Others participating in the "opening" were Ted Stevens, umpire-in-chief, Forest Fabel, Monroe County commissioner of softball, and MCLSL president Joe Whalen.

Hurl One-Hitter

In the exhibition game last night, Chief Luchi hurled Bessecker's to a 11-3 triumph over 579th. Lucki allowed only one hit, a single by Willson.

Dick Miller paced the Dinermen with three-for-three.

Bessecker's bolted away to a 6-0 dge in the first inning and were never threatened for the lead thereafter.

Stags To Meet Waymart Today

NEWFOUNDLAND — Greene-Dreher-Sterling High will take on Waymart High in a baseball contest today on the latter's diamond. Game time is 2:30 p. m.

Coach Henry Arneberg is expected to start a mixture of vets and inexperienced players against Waymart. Catching will be Paul Weinland; Don Olsommer, pitcher; Lewis Butler, first base; Bob Hag, shortstop; Jim Scott, third; Ron Robacker, center; and Ron Olsommer, right. Second base and left field are open positions, thus far, Arneberg said.

Others out for the squad are Johnny Hinds, Bob Rockford, Mike Dugan, Tom Peiffer, Henry Stevens, Gary Cunningham, Fred Bens-choten, Bob Wenkosky, Ed Simon, Bob Holdren and Howard Phillips.

The Stags next game is with Honesdale, away, Friday.

Named Miami Of Ohio Coach

OXFORD, Ohio, April 29 — Appointment of Richard G. Shrider, 34, as head basketball coach at Miami University was announced today by Athletic Director John L. Bricks.

Shrider, a former star at Ohio SIO Michigan and Ohio University, has been coaching at Fairborn High School.

Shrider succeeds Bill Rohr, who resigned last week to become basketball coach at Northwestern.

Stroudsburg Seeks 5th At Emmaus Today

UNBEATEN Stroudsburg High shoots for its fifth straight diamond success today when the high-flying Mountaineers of Jerry Stulgaitis takes on Emmaus on the Green Hornets field. Game time is 3:30 p. m.

The contest, a Lehigh Valley League duel, will be the second circuit outing for the Mountaineers. Last week Stulgaitis' crew won its league opener, downing Lehigh-ton.

Ron (Super) Phillips is expected to do the hurling for Stroudsburg today. It will be Phillips' second mound performance of the season. Earlier in the year he pitched in relief against Pen Argyl.

Same Lineup

Stulgaitis will go with the same wrecking crew which has run roughshod over four foes. Catching will be Don Stopp. On first will be Charley Cramsey, Barry Tretaway will hold down second; Ron Stopp will man short-stop; and Bill Schoonover will be at third.

In the outfield, Dick Cramsey will be in left, Art Fry in center and Frank Radler in right.

Possible Switch

In case Phillips doesn't start on the mound the "Super" will probably go to center in place of Fry. A hill bypass of Phillips also will probably give the pitching job to "Buddy" Radler, and send John Hallock to right.

Emmaus dropped its only LV tilt of the season last week to Slatington.

Cleanup Today At Eastburg LL Diamond

A 100 PER cent turnout to help clean up Little League Park in East Stroudsburg today, was the goal of Eastburg LL officials.

An appeal to all interested persons to report to the field at 6 p. m. to help with the cleanup project was made by LL president Jack Kist last night.

Kist also announced that the Little League's Women's Auxiliary will hold election of officers and outline its program for the season at a meeting at East Stroudsburg Senior High, Thursday, at 7:30 p. m.

An open invitation to all ladies to attend the LL auxiliary session has been extended.

Bethlehem Nine Admitted To BML

RAUBSVILLE — Bethlehem was admitted to the Blue Mountain League last night bringing the loop membership to eight teams.

Other teams in the loop circuit are Tatamy, Danielsville, Raubsville, Bath, Phillipsburg, Martins Creek and Nazareth.

The Blue Mountain will open play Sunday.

President Gene Hartzell was in charge of last night's session.

Knicks Purchase Willie Gardner

NEW YORK, April 29 — The New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Assn., today purchased Willie Gardner, 6-foot, 8-inch, 22-year-old Harlem Globetrotters player for a price reported to be more than $30,000.

Deadline Today For Climb Entries

ENTRY DEADLINE for the Pocono Mountain Sports Car Association Hill Climb at Fox Gap will close today, Skip Miller, PMSCA activities director, announced last night.

Thus far 71 sports cars have entered the "beat the clock" race up Route 90 Saturday. Climb officials said that only 90 entries will be accepted and that the last 19 will be on a first-come, first-serve basis. A last minute rush of applicants is expected today.

Drivers of cars from six states will be represented in the first such event in Monroe County. Vehicles to be seen Saturday are Austin-Healeys, Triumphs, Morgans, Porsches, Jaguars, Alfa-Romeos, Stas, Mercedes-Benz 190 SLs, and 300SLs, MGs, Volkswagens, Volvos, Renaults, Morris Minor, Frazier-Nash "Millie Miglia", and a Deutsch Bonnet.

In the American sports car class, such cars as Ford T-birds, Chevrolet Corvettes, Kaiser Darrin and a factory entered Plymouth Fury, sponsored by the Chrysler Corporation.

Many of the cars are capable of attaining speeds of more than 150 miles per hour.

The course for the climb is situated two miles south of Stroudsburg on Route 90. The area is of times referred to as "Sal's Crotch". The course is 1.2 miles long with two 180 degree turns and three 90 degree turns intermingled in the run.

50 Seconds

Climb promoters say that best times of drivers should be under the 50 second mark. Most of the sports cars chauffeurs wave raced at various courses across the United States.

The Fox Hill Climb is being sponsored by the Pocono Mountain Sports Car Association Inc. with the cooperation of local, state civic organizations and officials.

Rush Demoted To Cub Bullpen

CHICAGO, April 29 — Bob Rush, the Chicago Cubs' leading pitcher last year with a 13-10 record, today was demoted to the bullpen by Manager Bob Schef-fing.

Schefing said that, barring unexpected developments, Rush would lose his starting turn for a while and toil in relief. The Cubs open a long Eastern swing tomorrow night at Brooklyn.

Rush, starting his 10th season with the Cubs, hasn't finished a game and has yielded 19 hits and 18 runs, 15 of them earned, in 15 2½ innings.

Seek Billy Myers

LANGHORNE, Pa. — Co-Promoters Irv Fried and Al Gerber are making a determined bid to get the services of Billy Myers, colorful stock car pilot from Germantown, N. C., for the May 5 running of the 150-mile National championship convertible classic listed for the Langhorne Speedway.

Bobby Myers, younger brother and rated among the top ten speedsters in the convertible division, has already entered the classic.

Manager Mike Higgins of the Boston Red Sox in 1930 went from the University of Texas to the Philadelphia Athletics and played 14 games.

Three-way Deal Reported Brewing

Bosox Get Stone, Chakales In 5-Player Deal With Nats

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—After month of dickering, the Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox finally got together today on a trade. The first major deal since the opening of the 1957 season included these shifts:

Veteran pitchers Dean Stone and Bob Chakales traveled to the Red Sox.

Shortstop Milt Bolling, outfielder Faye Throneberry and pitcher Russ Kemmerer were dispatched to Washington.

May Help 2 Spots
For the Senators, the player transaction went at least part way toward solving weaknesses at centerfield and shortstop. It also found them taking a chance with a new right-hander after previously unavailing attempts to bolster a glaringly deficient pitching staff.

The Red Sox received in Stone the possible answer to their need for another left-hander and in Chakales a right-handed reliever to fortify their bull pen.

The trade culminated months of negotiations between a pair of brothers-in-law: Club President Calvin Griffith of the Senators and General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox.

No cash was involved. Griffith said the Senators had been "trying for two months" to land the three Bostonians, indicating the deal had hinged on which players Washington was willing to surrender.

At Boston, Cronin rated the exchange a good one for each club. "The players will provide help we both need," he said.

Stone, a 26-year-old southpaw, was obviously the key man for the Red Sox. Mel Parnell, once their star lefty, is now on the disabled list with a question-mark elbow. He and rookie Jack Spring were the only southpaws available to Manager Mike Higgins.

Derby Trial To Sharpen Six Horses

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29 (AP)—The initial skirmish leading up to the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby on Saturday will find half a dozen 2-year-old stars battling tomorrow in the one-mile Derby Trial Stakes at Churchill Downs.

Heading the field for the trial will be the powerful Calumet Farm pair of Gen. Duke and Iron Liege, and although the entry box didn't close until this morning there were no surprises. Rather, it would have been a surprise if one of the colts wasn't entered, for all trainers have said for 10 days or so they would give their horses a final tuneup in the trial. For 14 years, Ben and Jimmy Jones of Calumet have used the Trial as their final big sharpener for the Derby.

Also entered were Clifford Lusk, Ky's Federal Hill, W. S. Miller's Better Bee, and the Ada L. Rice entry of Indian Creek and Man Up Stairs.

Under the allowance conditions, Gen. Duke and Federal Hill pack top weight of 122 pounds, while Man Up Stairs has 114, and the others each must tote 116. On Saturday, all starters pack 126 pounds.

Bold Ruler, owned by the Wheatley Stable, is considered by most observers to be the colt who must stop Calumet although there are three others who also are skipping the Trial and waiting for the big one Saturday. They are Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, flying in from New York late today, Travis M. Kerr's Round Table, and T. A. Grissom's Shan Pac.

Milwaukee Is Hottest Team In Big Loops

The Associated Press
THE Milwaukee Braves, hottest team in both major leagues, open their first Eastern swing in New York today obviously impatient to test their bulging muscles against the champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Braves, whose pitching has been solid and whose bats have boomed 15 home runs, play two games with the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds. They then go to Pittsburgh for three. They return for games Sunday and Monday against their pennant rivals at Ebbets Field.

The two games may be enough to buoy the Milwaukee confidence to greater proportions or puncture it with a cold blade—like that of Barber Sal Maglie's razor.

While the National League spreads out over the East, American League teams go West with two questions paramount: 1. How long can the Chicago White Sox hold their early pace? 2. Are the New York Yankees in for the pennant fight of their lives?

Name Leaders
Fans in Milwaukee and Chicago, elated over the early success of their heroes, might ponder one sobering statistic. The baseball standings a year ago showed these teams leading: Milwaukee in the N. L., Chicago in the A. L.

Today's schedule in the National League: Milwaukee at New York, night; Chicago at Brooklyn, night; Cincinnati at Philadelphia, night; St. Louis at Pittsburgh, night.

In the American League: Boston at Kansas City, night; Baltimore at Chicago, New York at Detroit; Washington at Cleveland, night.

The Braves come East with a two-game lead over the Dodgers and four over the third-place contender, the Philadelphia Phillies.

In winning nine of their 10 starts, the Braves have received good pitching performances from their entire staff but particularly from two.

Lefty Warren Spahn has started three games, finished three and won them all. Lew Burdette has managed to carry a spitball controversy with Cincinnati's Manager Birdie Tebbets, and at the same time win two of his three games.

Milwaukee power has been asserting itself. Joe Adcock has hit five home runs and Hank Aaron has smashed four.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers haven't been awing anybody, although the "old pros" have managed to keep within hollering distance of first place. Duke Snider is hitting .216 and Roy Campanella is batting .219. Also the Brooks have missed the steady influence of shortstop Pee Wee Reese, out with a bad back.

The American League has developed into a tighter race than the National with only three games separating the top team, Chicago, from the sixth-place club, Cleveland. The Boston Red Sox are one game back of the White Sox and are one-half game ahead of the Yankees.

Casey Stengel, the Yankees' dugout philosopher, may have hit the nail on the head with a wry comment after the Red Sox series. "It looks like they want to win," he said.

Finds Fault With Spitball

PITTSBURGH, April 29 (AP)—Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said today he wishes every Pirate pitcher could throw the spitball "and I'd tell them to throw it until they're stopped."

Brown made his remarks during a broadcast over Pittsburgh radio station KDKA where he has a half-hour program each Sunday. Brown said he finds no fault with the spitball. He added: "I don't know why the spitball is illegal. When it was legal there were few pitchers who knew how to use it. I'd be all for the spitball today. It would cut down on runs."

is legal, javelin throwing will be revolutionized as much as the butterfly stroke revolutionized swimming."

Title Referee Will Enforce Foul Ruling

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—The referee assigned to the Gene Fullmer-Ray Robinson middleweight title bout Wednesday night will be instructed to call a foul at any signs of rabbit punching or holding in a clinch.

If the fight follows the same pattern it did when Fullmer lifted the middleweight crown from Sugar Ray in Madison Square Garden four months ago, the referee may be busier than the two fighters.

The scheduled 15-round fight at Chicago Stadium will be televised and broadcast nationally—ABC, 9 p. m. EST—with Chicago and a 150-mile radius blacked out on TV.

The Illinois Athletic Commission will appoint the referee just prior to ring time.

The Robinson camp immediately raised a cry of rabbit punching after Fullmer took the title by unanimous decision in New York. Robinson, himself, however, never has made such a charge. The Fullmer camp accused Sugar Ray of holding Fullmer's arm.

Despite the controversy, which simmered down as fast as it was sprung, there has been little attempt to revive it with the hopes of hyping the gate for this scrap.

$175,000 Gate
Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, foresees a gate of around $175,000 and attendance up to 14,000.

But in order for this business will have to be brisk at the box office the next two days. The last fight caught on late and ballooned to a $181,615 gate with a crowd of 18,131.

Meanwhile, the odds favoring Fullmer have shrunk to about 2-1 from 16-5. The gradual decrease came during the last week when Robinson showed flashes in workouts of his former self.

Track Coaches Seek Ruling On 'Spitter'

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Track and field coaches, like baseball men, have come up with a "spitter" problem and they're looking for someone like Warren Giles to make a ruling in a hurry.

This "spitter" is the revolutionary style of javelin throwing demonstrated at the Penn Relays last weekend by Miguel Salcedo of the University of Puerto Rico.

Like baseball's illegal spitball, Salcedo's sidarm style depends on moisture for its effect, and the course of the pitch is quite uncertain.

It is an outgrowth of the "Spanish" style pioneered by Felix Er-ausquin, who could heave the spear 300 feet but didn't know where it was going. That was ruled out before the 1956 Olympics as being too dangerous.

100 Feet More
Salcedo doesn't spin completely around like Erausquin, but he does pivot before letting the javelin go and he moistens the shaft so it will slide through his hand. One of his demonstration tosses at Philadelphia veered over into the pole vault pit and sent the vaulters scurrying to safety.

Salcedo apparently has established that any javelin thrower can get a lot more distance—perhaps as much as 100 feet—by using this style instead of the orthodox run-up and overhand throw. The question is whether it's legal and the coaches—particularly Manhattan's George Eastment—would like an answer before next Saturday's Metropolitan Intercollegiate.

"I don't know, even after watching it last Saturday," said Pincus Sber, chairman of the ICA rules committee and the AAU track and field committee. "There still are several questions I want to ask. There's a matter of the grip as well as turning the back. But if it

SPEISER ROTARY - 22

The Self-Propelled, Hi-Power Mower that's been styled for eye appeal... engineered for unbeatable performance

The SPEISER ROTARY-22 was styled in the firm conviction that a mower engineered with such care is deserving of a smart appearance. A total of 34 years of mower engineering have gone into the SPEISER ROTARY-22, yet the price has been scaled to sell at a minimum. Below are just a few reasons why you'll be proud you chose a new SPEISER

"Job-Test" the NEW SPEISER ROTARY-22 and you'll say: "This is the mower for me"

NEW FEATURES

Cutting width on the improved Speiser has been increased to a full 22 inches. Horsepower is increased; the Speiser is powered by a rugged 2 1/4 H.P. 4-cycle Briggs & Stratton engine. A new deluxe silencer gives you quieter operation at peak efficiency.

SAFETY FEATURES

Safety clutch protects engine and blade if you strike a hard object. Has one-piece, high-alloy unbreakable blade which is housed under an all-steel reinforced deck. Rigid handle prevents you from rolling mower back over your feet; handle also telescopes to allow proper adjustment according to operator's height.

PERFORMANCE FEATURES

The Speiser is big enough to save you mowing time, yet maneuverable enough to do the job efficiently. You can mow, trim or mulch. Separate, removable leaf pulverizer is easily attached inside discharge chute. Adjusts from 1" to 3 1/2-inch cutting height. Large staggered wheels make it easier to push and retractable recoil starter eliminates rewinding. Has remote throttle control.

Push-Type Speiser Rotary Models:

● ROTARY 20

Takes full 20-inch cut. Powered by 4-cycle Briggs & Stratton engine with 1 3/4 H.P. Has recoil starter, standard muffler, safety clutch, unbreakable safety steel blade, semi-pneumatic tires with nylon bearings, adjustable chrome handle. Cuts from 1 to 3 1/2 inches and has removable leaf mulcher.

● ROTARY 22

Takes full 22-inch cut. Powered by Briggs & Stratton 2 1/4 H.P. 4-cycle engine. Has recoil starter, deluxe muffler, safety clutch, unbreakable safety steel blade, semi-pneumatic tires with nylon bearings, adjustable chrome handle. Cuts from 1 to 3 1/2 inches and has removable leaf mulching attachment.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR TUESDAY, APRIL 30, 1957

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Jupiter, Venus and other planetary aspects should inspire you to put forth new efforts to gain all the good possible today. Finance, business, work matters especially favored.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Your Venus, Mercury and the Moon suggest for real achievement in your special interests, personal and otherwise. You may attain through friendships, those who admire your capabilities.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Many stimulating influences. But beware! reckless or rash things for granted. You will do best by planning before acting. Also be conservative in order to avoid errors.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—You thrive under inspiration and on the enthusiasm and encouragement of your family, associates. You will have all these aids today, so if you put forth your mind on your goals you will do well.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo)—Some restrictions now, but they can be helpful inasmuch as they force you to keep on your feet. Hard tasks, all useful work can produce gains.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo)—You have much for which to be grateful. This encourages you to put forth your efforts to stimulate matters needing a keen mentality. It's your day for study, research, writing, science, etc.

September 22 to October 21 (Libra)—You are specific and practical in the affairs can be helped greatly by employers, employees, associates, admirers. Work for that which is laudable art,istry, skill, intelligence and tact.

October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Foresightfulness won't be necessary but caution will be needed in physical work and dangerous pursuits. New business, conferences, writing, journalism among your activities.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—You can handle this day's obligations with ease and with top-flight results, too. But do not be overbearing; win cooperation with your graceful, kind and unobtrusive.

December 22 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Your biggest rewards will most likely come from a willingness to work hard and your ambition to succeed. Endeavor only that which is good, helpful.

January 22 to February 21 (Aquarius)—Your plans, intentions, suggest steadiness, purposeful action and intent. You can garner benefits and monetary returns if you put forth your best efforts. Don't renege on debts.

February 22 to March 21 (Pisces)—Here, intuition is your ally. Many strong, friendly aspects. Be sure to take advantage of available opportunities. Be progressive and you will benefit.

March 22 to April 21 (Aries)—You are endowed with physical, mental, physical and spiritual; are usually faithful to a trust, very capable in a broad range of work, and with top-flight results, too. But do not be overbearing; win cooperation with your graceful, kind and unobtrusive.

County Commissioners Name Paradise Township Assessor

MONROE COUNTY Commissioners yesterday appointed Leonard Rinaldi, Henryville, to the post of Paradise Township assessor.

Rinaldi will fill the unexpired term of J. Burton Hanablin who resigned several months ago. Commissioners had first appointed Harry Niering to fill the unexpired portion of the term but Niering also withdrew.

Saylorsburg Resident Dies At Home

SAYLORSBURG — Eugene Mackes, 88, of Saylorsburg, died at his home at 6 a. m. yesterday after a long illness.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Mackes, he was born and lived his early life at Grass Lake in the Poconos; his family moved to Saylorsburg when he was two years old and he had lived there ever since.

Mr. Mackes helped to build the railroad line which ran for years between Saylorsburg and Wind Gap. He has been a farmer most of his life.

Church Member
He was a member of the Mount Eaton Lutheran Church, the IOOF Lodge in Sciota, the POS of A in Saylorsburg and the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co. in Saylorsburg. He was the last member of a family of seven children.

Surviving are four nephews; one grand-niece; one grand-nephew and one great-grand-nephew.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. from the late residence in Saylorsburg with Kresge funeral directors in charge. Rev. Robert Zuch will officiate. Interment will be made in Stroudsbury Cemetery. Friends may call Wednesday after 7 p. m. at the late home.

Grants To Agencies

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—The William J. Woolman Foundation, a philanthropic organization, has announced grants totaling $6,600,000 to 84 New York City colleges, hospitals and welfare agencies.

Father Of East Borough Woman Dies

SIMON Kantrowitz, father of Mrs. Myron Ehrlich, East Stroudsbury, died last week at 1488 Sterling Place, Brooklyn. He was 61 years old.

Mr. Kantrowitz formerly owned and operated the Delaware Dairy and Royal Scarlet Food Store in East Stroudsbury.

Survivors
In addition to Mrs. Ehrlich, Mr. Kantrowitz is survived by his wife, Molly; sons, Larry, Brooklyn, and Moe, New Haven; sisters, Mrs. Anna Penchansky, and Mrs. Dora Jaffe, Woodbridge, N. Y.; brother, Nathan Kantrowitz, Woodbridge, N. Y.

Services were conducted at the Guttman Funeral Chapel, Bedford and Church Aves., Brooklyn, by Rabbi David Herman, nephew of Mr. Kantrowitz, and Rabbi Fivelson, president of Stern College for Women, New York. Interment was in Mount Judah Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Explosion Causes Damage To Kitchen

TANNERSVILLE — An explosion, believed by one of the owners to be due to gas leakage, caused an estimated $5,000 to $6,000 damage to the kitchen of The Coral Reef here yesterday morning.

Fred Kloth, co-owner with Fred Metzger, told The Daily Record that the explosion "caused about 80 percent damage to the kitchen."

Kloth said he went into the kitchen alone at about 1:30 a. m. He lit a match in preparation for boiling water on a burner of the stove. The range uses bottled gas, he said.

Damage
When the match lit the kitchen was rocked by a powerful explosion. Kloth said, Kloth was thrown across the room by the blast, he said.

Damage was confined entirely to the kitchen floor, ceiling, walls and furnishings, the co-owner said. No other part of the building, formerly known as Trach's Hotel, was damaged, according to Kloth.

Kloth went to General Hospital for x-rays following the accident. He said that x-rays showed that he was uninjured except for a bruise, however.

Plans Made For Banquet

FINAL PLANS are now being made for the annual "Ladies Night" banquet of the Industrial Management Club of Monroe County.

The banquet will be held Friday, May 10 at The Fernwood, Bushkill. Program arrangements are being made by a committee headed by Horace Walters.

All persons within plants wishing to attend are asked to contact key personnel in the factories where they are employed so that adequate reservations may be made.

Pre-School Registration Set For East Stroudsbury

PRE-SCHOOL registration for East Stroudsbury children begins today.

Children from Wards 1, 2 and 3 will be registered at the Training School at East Stroudsbury State Teachers College from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1 to 3 p. m.

Tomorrow children from Wards 4, 5 and 6 will be registered at the Junior High School from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1 to 3 p. m.

Children who will be five years of age before Feb. 1, 1958, will be registered for kindergarten. Those who will be six years old before Feb. 1, 1958 and have not been attending kindergarten this year, will be registered for first grade. If the child is now attending kindergarten, he need not be registered.

Parents are required to attend registration with their children. Birth and vaccination certificates are required. If the child has not been vaccinated this must be done before school begins in September.

Failure to register a child will cause delay in admission to school in the fall.

Billion Dollars Needed
NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—One billion dollars are needed to construct 30 medical schools to combat an expected deficit of 22,000 to 45,000 physicians by 1960, says Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, executive director of the American Hospital Assn. Because of the large sums involved, much of the funds for the schools and for new hospital facilities will have to come from the government, Dr. Crosby adds.

Current Balance Switch
JOHANNESBURG, April 29 (AP)—Kenneth A. H. Adams, a South African consulting engineer, has invented a device called a current balance switch "to take the shock out of shock" and reduce risk of death by electrocution in homes.

The mechanism in a small box switches off all current in a house as soon as a person receives a shock from a faulty switch or appliance.
